CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Sept. 2.—The United States government today entered the amazing murder mystery of Harry Powers, alias Cornelius Pierson, mail-order slayer of two widows and three children—and perhaps more.

Believing that a narcotic angle was connected with the "slaughter house" murder, T. E. Middlebrooks chief agent in charge of the division of narcotics, Washington, D. C., accompanied by the assistant agent in charge, was rushing to the scene to begin an investigation, International News Service learned today.

Arrive For Probe.

The commissioner of narcotics ordered his lieutenants to the scene of the crime early today upon a report from Narcotic Agent Commodore D. Fortney, operating in the Clarksburg area.

Middlebrooks and his aide made the trip through the night by automobile.

Agent Fortney is convinced that Powers used heroin for his ghastly wholesale murder of Mrs. Asta Eicher of Park Ridge, Ill., and her

How "Bluebeard" Met Women

Here, in an exclusive residential district of Detroit, is the attractive home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Plater, who run the American Friendship society through which Harry Powers, the West Virginia "Bluebeard", met many of the women he wooed. The Platers, shown above, maintain the business is not a matrimonial bureau but a "correspondence society for lonely people."

Municipal Lodgers And Local Drunks Must Dig Coal Here

Relief work to be done in New Castle this winter is to be for the benefit of New Castle and Lawrence County needy.

This is the idea of those in charge of relief work here.

At the same time it is announced that a plan is being worked out whereby transients who apply here for overnight lodging and food, who are able bodied are to be required to work in the community strip mine near Croton, and dig coal to be distributed to local needy by M. B. Hogue, welfare officer.

Drunks Must Dig Coal

Likewise, drunks who appear in the city police court, and are unable to pay their fines, will also be put to work digging coal at the same place, the coal to be distributed to needy through the county welfare officer.

It is believed that such a program will make New Castle one of the towns to be avoided by transients, who are travelling about the country, and also make less work for the police taking care of local chronic drunks.

Every city in the country is making plans to care for its own needy this winter, and there is no reason for a horde of men travelling about the country from one town to another as in the past. Hence, New Castle is moving to eliminate this city as a desirable stopping place.

DAVID J. JONES

David J. Jones, 53, of Ellwood City, a former member of the Pennsylvania General Assembly from Lawrence County, and owner of the Ellwood Stone Company, was almost instantly killed today when his automobile skidded into an electric light pole on the Ohio River Boulevard near Superior avenue in Pittsburgh. He was taken to the Presbyterian Hospital but died before his arrival there.

All of the details of the accident are not known as yet. The information received here was that Mr. Jones was going into Pittsburgh with his son William, 20, the latter driving the car. Due to the slip-

Rabbi Menkes Leaving City

Goes To New York City To Make His Future Residence

RABBI GROSSFIELD SUCCESSOR HERE

Concluding four years as spiritual leader of New Castle reform Jewry, Rabbi Jacob B. Menkes, former rabbi of Temple Israel, left this city today for New York City where he expects to make his permanent residence.

Rabbi Menkes is succeeded by Rabbi Avery Jonah Grossfield of New York and Cincinnati who has received a call from the north hill congregation.

A theologian of note, author and student of the Talmud, Rabbi Menkes made a decided impression during his stay in New Castle. Before coming here he was rabbi of the Beth-Zion congregation at Bradford, Pa., for 14 years and had been president of the ministerial association in that city twice.

During the coming Jewish high holidays the rabbi will fill a pulpit at Portland, Ore. For the next several months he will appear on the lecture platform, devote his time to writing on popular as well as theological subjects for a metropolitan newspaper and a press syndicate.

Rabbi Menkes was born in Lemberg, Austria, where he received his first secular and Hebrew training. He entered the Jewish Theological Seminary in New York and was ordained a rabbi from that institution. His academic training was received at Columbia University. He has concluded post graduate work at the Hebrew Union College, Cincinnati.

The rabbi is the author of "The Division of the Kingdom of Solomon," and several short articles in various periodicles.

Before leaving New Castle he declared that his stay here had resulted strong in friendships with gentiles as well as Jews, and thanked the community for its friendliness and cooperation.

Edward Syling of the Ellwood-New Castle road, a brother of Grover Syling, local police sergeant, is recovering from a kidney operation at Jameson Memorial hospital.

Registration Takes Jump

Lethargy Of Voters Is Disappearing Second Day Returns Show

HEAVY VOTE AT PRIMARY SEEN

Indications are beginning to appear that New Castle will poll a heavy vote on September 15. If there was any lethargy in the heavily populated precincts on the first day of registration, that lethargy disappeared in part at least Tuesday, September 1, and almost all the precincts in the second, third and fourth wards reported heavy registrations.

A similar condition existed in the other wards of the city, registrars report and a possible 14,000 total vote in the primary seems reasonable to expect.

Many factors enter into the reason for heavy registrations, among them the large list of candidates who are running for office, and the usual interest engendered in a close political fight.

One more day remains for registration, this being September 12. Persons who were sick or absent from the city on the three registration days can qualify to vote by presenting themselves at the county commissioners office, but unless they can show sickness or absence as the cause for failure to register, they will be denied the privelege.

Chicago Bank Employe Admits Embezzlement

Loses Million And Half Dollars In Market During Last 12 Years

WAS CHURCH-GOER AND FAMILY MAN

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—Walter E. Wolf, church-goer and family man, embezzled more than one million dollars from the nation's fourth largest bank, but never profited by more than $500.

His thefted fortune went down the greased skids of the stock and grain markets, during the past 12 years.

This was disclosed today as Wolf eagerly assisted authorities seeking to learn the exact amount of his defalcations. His home-loving wife and 12-year-old daughter, hitherto unaware of his dealings, meantime took refuge with relatives and refused to be interviewed.

It was feared Wolf's total embezzlements may amount over $2,000,000. He admitted taking $1,500,000.

"I am glad to get this load off my mind," he said. "It has made me miserable. After I help the bank recover what can be recovered the authorities can do anything they like with me."

Great Cathedral Of Moscow Blown Up By Soviet Government

Great Cathedral Blasted Down To Make Room For New Soviet Development

(International News Service)

LONDON, Sept. 2.—The great Cathedral of Moscow, one of the most historic edifices in Russia, was blown up by the Soviet authorities with appropriate ceremonies today to make room for a new Soviet development, it was stated in an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Berlin.

On the site of the cathedral will be built "the palace of the grand plan", commemorating successful completion of the Soviet government's five-year plan.

The edifice was built by Alexander I to commemorate the defeat of Napoleon at Moscow. Long one of the chief places of worship for orthodox Russians, the cathedral was capable of holding 10,000 persons.

DRIZZLING RAIN DAMPENS AIR RACES

MUNICIPAL AIRPORT, CLEVELAND, Sept. 2.—With King Speed selfishly occupying the desired spot of paramount interest with enthusiastic race fans, aviators contesting for honors in the national air races gathered here today for more trials at existing records.

An overcast sky and a drizzling rain early in the day, however, threatened to dampen the efforts of the daring pilots as they sought to share honors with Lowell Bayles, Springfield, Mass., aviator, who yesterday gave a dazzling exhibition of speed by sending his stream-lined Gee Bee Wasp Junior through the air at a speed of 286.863 miles per hour.

Bayles Breaks Record

Bayles sped around the one-mile course, with and against the wind, at an average rate of 267.242 miles per hour ,a half a mile an hour faster than the American Land speed record of 266.8 held by Al Williams. The new mark, however, will not stand as official, because

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Sept. 2.—This country is not entirely over its "cuckoo" stage yet for every day there is more printed in the papers about the new and old golf ball than there is on unemployment.

When the dimensions of a golf ball is our greatest worry we still got a long way to go to get back to normal.

Five thousand people followed Bobby Jones and watched him watch the golf championship.

We ought to get Bobby to sit in Washington and watch it; that might revive interest in our present form of government.

Only Needy Will Be Given Work On Highway Projects

Road Foreman Suspended, Found Hiring Crew Of Single Men For Job

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Sept. 2.—The state highway department's labor policy of giving employment only "in the neediest cases" as enunciated by Governor Gifford Pinchot will be rigidly adhered to in the future.

That was made clear today with announcement of the suspension of a road foreman in Elk county when investigation revealed that the majority of his crew were unmarried men, three of whom were not urgently in need of work.

"This may throw some fear into those workmen who are taking care of their relatives first," State Secretary of Highways Samuel S. Lewis declared.

Under the department's policy, married men with dependents were to be given prior consideration in the distribution of highway employment.

"The superintendent in the Elk county district uncovered a gross disregard of this policy, stopped the job and recommended the release of the foreman. His recommendation has been approved without any loss of time," Lewis announced. He declined to reveal the name of the discharged employe.

We ought to take the weather as it comes and not complain, we never ought to criticize the day, for every day is sunny, so the optimists would have it, if inside a fellow's feeling bright and gay. But at times there comes a feeling that a rain is out of place, and it ruins plans we've made for certain things, but when spells like that are pending then I force a little smile, and remember all the good the rain king brings. And I wouldn't even say it, but in case I had to, why I could not help some commenting that the weather's far from dry, and the streets are sogging, dripping, and the clouds are slate and gray, but inside the weather's sunny, and it's seventy six today.

Action of the industries in deciding upon the observance of eastern standard time, beginning next Sunday morning, is appreciated by the citizens of the city. A lot of needless time confusion for the next three weeks will be eliminated. Every institution in New Castle will be on eastern standard time starting on Sunday morning.

After long delay it appears that the time has arrived when actual construction will soon be started on the Pymatuning dam project. Thirty bids for the project were opened at Harrisburg yesterday, and the actual award will be made shortly, it is expected.

If some decisive action in the matter of the construction of the new postoffice could be reported, it would be a pleasing matter. It seems to take months and months to get any real action on state and national projects.

Two Mexican Senoritas Fight Duel For Lover

(International News Service)

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 2.—Two pretty Mexican senoritas, rivals for the hand of Sergio Silva, fought a duel on the outskirts of Mexico City in the moolight before dawn today.

When the police arrived at the scene, a vacant lot, they found Sofia Mendoza lying dangerously wounded with a bullet in a lung and Maria De Los Angeles standing nearby with a hand on her hip and a pistol in her hand.

"We both loved Sergio and decided to shoot it out," said Maria, as the police placed her under arrest. "There was no other way."

The two girls fought their duel without seconds. A passerby saw them meet, turn their backs to each other and measured off twenty paces before they turned and fired. They used 25-caliber pistols.

Silva is a local business man.

Rescue Workers Lose Battle To Save Man Caught In Well Cave-In

(International News Service)

LANCASTER, Sept. 2.—An eight-hour struggle to free William Bowers, 32, of Mayton, from a well where he had been imprisoned by tons of rock and dirt hurled down by a cave-in, today ended in failure when the victim died of injuries only 15 minutes before his rescuers freed him.

The cave-in occurred late yesterday afternoon on the farm of Amos Shank in Rowenna, Lancaster county. Bowers had descended into the well to install machinery for a new pump.

Highway workers and state police aided in the rescue. Bowers was held prisoner in a standing position. His head was left free in a small crevice. Volunteers and rescuers worked in two-hour shifts in their efforts to free the man.

"My God, get me out of here," was the only cry which escaped Bowers' lips.

Police said more than 50 tons of rock and dirt fell into the well when the sides suddenly collapsed as Bowers attempted to make his way to the opening.

Widows Death In Florida Recalled By Powers Case

Detroit Widow Shot And Killed By "Mail-Order" Husband, Who Then Suicided

KILLING OCCURRED AT MIAMI, FLORIDA

(International News Service)

DETROIT, Sept. 2.—A Detroit widow, the mother of three children, met violent death at the hands of a prospective husband whom she met through the American Friendship Society, a matrimonial agency here, according to an article in the Detroit Times today. The agency occurred in Miami, Florida, last January 7.

The victim was Mrs. Laura Brucklmeyer, former owner of a beauty shop here. The man whom she met through the "marriage mart." Martin Downey, took his own life after fatally shooting the widow.

The two principals in the Miami murder-suicide case met through the matrimonial bureau, it is reported. It was through the same channel that Harry F. Powers met his five victims, whom he brutally murdered.

Romance Short

Mrs. Margaret Kendall revealed the "death romance" of Mrs. Brucklmyer. She said:

"Laura was a widow eight years and having a hard time getting along. She started to correspond with a man named Martin Downey. They met through the American Friendship Society.

"Early last January, Downey arrived in Detroit from Miami. A few days later he took Laura back to Miami with him. On January 7, he killed her and then shot himself. I don't know why."

Meanwhile police sought to trace the identity of a "Mrs. W. H. S., of Iron Mountain, Mich.", whose initials were found in a trunk belonging to the West Virginia "Mail Order Romeo."

bad weather of the fall and winter arrives. Deep ruts have been worked in the streets in places during the summer.

Last night wasn't a very good time for pleasure riding—unless you like to drive in a blinding rain. The evening started out all right, and so local motorists got about 20 miles from home before hint of rain. Several cars were stalled between here and New Wilmington with water in their distributors.

There wasn't one parking place on Washington street last night at 10 o'clock.

In 1885 the candidates for the various offices were not so plentiful as they are today, according to the newspaper of June 12, 1885, which Mrs. Grace Shook of South Mill street has in her possession. In the political announcements there was only one candidate for sheriff on the Republican ticket, William G. Warnock; one for district attorney, Samuel P. McCracken, and one for jury commissioner, Samuel Brandon. Quite different from the hundreds who are in the political field today.

Pa Newc observes that the blackbirds are beginning to gather in the Boyles avenue, Park avenue district. Last night, great flocks of them filled the air, as they flitted about preparatory to retiring for the night in the trees along the two streets. Every year, the blackbirds gather about this time and prove a great nuisance for a couple of weeks.

Croton residents are thankful that the County Line street paving has progressed to the point where the street cars can operate again. While the busses were in operation, they would ride about half way up to Croton and then swing back almost downtown again to get home.

Rains of the past few weeks seem to have caused the weeds along sidewalks and in vacant lots to take a new lease on life. Pa Newc observed several sidewalks in the North Hill district, where the weeds almost cover the walk. This is especially disagreeable during wet weather.

County Line street is almost ready for traffic. The work of laying the bricks was completed yesterday and workmen have been following up the pavers, pouring tar between the bricks.

Work has been entirely completed on Blaine street and it is now open to traffic in its entirety. City employes paved the approach to the south end of the street at Park avenue, which was almost six inches lower than the new paving, while the corners were rounded off and concreted.

Many local people are taking advantage of the weekly pass being issued by the street car company. Pa Newc heard of one man, who is engaged in business in the city, who made twelve trips on the street car on the first day.

PROBE POSSIBLE NARCOTIC ANGLE TO POWERS CASE

three children, and Mrs. Dorothy Lemke of Northboro, Mass.

Further, he believes that Powers trafficked in "dope" in the vicinity which has become the southern center of a huge narcotic syndicate.

To Search Powers' Home.

The local police today plan to search the house of Powers where Mrs. "Lulu" Powers, his wife, and her sister, Eva Belle Strother, are now staying.

The federal agents are expected to accompany the local authorities and ascertain if there is a cache of morphine or heroin on the premises.

City Detective Carl Southern told International News Service that he expected, after conferring with Chief of Police C. A. Duckworth, to again take Mrs. Powers and her sister into custody for questioning.

Federal agents are expected to take part in the questioning of the two women.

Skeptical of Stories.

Both Duckworth and Southern are frankly dissatisfied with the stories that Mrs. Powers and her sister have told.

They point out specifically that the women have denied any knowledge of the habits, background or whereabouts of Powers before he married "Lulu" Strother in 1927.

Yet a batch of letters were unearthed from "Lulu" to Powers in 1926 and 1927, the contents of which revealed a full knowledge of what he was doing and where he was working.

In addition, Mrs. Powers has declared Powers and she were friends since childhood while her own handwriting in the letters discloses that she had never met him before and in fact furnished a full description of herself to her mail order suitor.

Exonerated Earlier.

Mrs. Powers and her sister were arrested at the time of the discovery of the five bodies buried by Powers but were released and exonerated of any connection with the crime.

Narcotic Agent Fortney, it was learned, told local police:

"I have data to make us believe that Powers committed his shocking crime under the influence of heroin.

"Evidence has also come to hand that he brought "dope" into Clarksburg and trafficked in narcotics."

Incidentally, an alleged "dope" peddler was arrested attempting to smuggle narcotics into the county jail where Powers is confined.

Aside from the entrance into the case of the federal government, the latest developments in the case were as follows:

Latest Developments.

Decision by the police and county prosecutor not to hold a special session of the grand jury. A delay was considered advisable in order to check up on any possible missing women among the hundreds of women throughout the country who corresponded with the matrimonial agency slayer.

Renewal of the inquiry into the disappearance of Steve Sfikas of Clarksburg, who, it was believed might have been another victim of the murder-lust of Powers.

Dispatching of word to authorities in Miller, S. D., and other places where Powers, according to his correspondence, lived for a time.

Analyzing of the dozen love-letters written by Mrs. Powers to her husband before they were married.

One of the letters asked whether Powers would tell "Mr. and Mrs. Rogers" of their wedding which was planned. When arrested for the murder, Powers said that Mrs. Eicher had gone to Colorado with a man named "Rogers".

City Detective Southern continued to question Powers about any knowledge of the murder of Mary Baker, pretty government worker of Washington, D. C., April 11, 1930.

While Powers admitted he had been in Washington at various times, he denied he had been in the capital in April or that he ever knew the girl.

"What was the motive behind the murder?" he blandly asked the detective.

"You tell me," suggested Detective Southern.

"I asked you first," grinned the slayer.

The Powers case will be laid before the grand jury at the next regular term of court beginning on November 10.

Four Are Cremated.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 2.—Gray ashes in four little urns were placed aboard a Chicago train today bearing to their last resting place all that is mortal of a once contented and financially secure middle aged widow and her three children—happy, healthy kids who followed the rainbow of promised toys, dresses and jewelry to a rendezvous with a ghastly death.

These urns held the ashes of Mrs. Asta Eicher and her three children, Greta 14, Harry 12 and Annabel 9—kids who once played and shrieked joyously about their suburban cottage at Park Ridge, Ill.

Through the early morning fog and smoke that enveloped Pittsburgh, the bodies of four victims of Harry F. Powers, Clarksburg killer, were brought here for cremation today. It marked a tragic climax to a mail-order "romance"—with one of the principals calmly plotting murder—that began when Mrs. Eicher turned for consolation in her widowed loneliness to Powers' long-distance courting via the matrimonial agency route.

The four bodies were brought here in two caskets. They were taken to Samson funeral home where legal papers for their transfer from West Virginia to Pennsylvania were signed. After the cremation at Homewood cemetery, the ashes were whisked to the Chicago train.

Well Known Citizen

David J. Jones was known in every part of Lawrence County. He was born in Swansea, South Wales, the son of David and Elizabeth Jones. As a small child he came to Pittsburgh with his parents where he resided for many years.

About thirty years ago his father established the Ellwood Stone Company, Mr. Jones affiliating himself with his father. Upon the latter's death Mr. Jones took the stone business over and has operated it ever since.

He was prominent in civic work in Eliwood City and in the entire county. In 1920 he was elected from the second district of Lawrence County to the Pennsylvania General Assembly and served in the sessions of 1921 and 1923.

His fraternal affiliations were largely with the Masonic order being a member of the various branches and of the Syria Temple, Ancient Arabic Order of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine.

No details as to the funeral arrangements are available as yet, his family having gone to Pittsburgh immediately upon receipt of the sad news.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Carrie Jones, two daughters, Mrs. James McAnlis, of St. Louis, Mrs. Paul Conner of Ellwood City, and three sons, David William and Robert. A sister, Mrs. John H. Jenkins of Pittsburgh also survives him.

Wage Reduction Being Predicted

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, Sept. 2.—A wage reduction in the steel industry is "regarded as increasingly probable", the magazine Steel will say in an article of its edition for release tomorrow.

"While there has been no announcement concerning the amount or the date when it will become effective, October 1 is most frequently mentioned by those who consider a readjustment inevitable," the article says.

Stating that steel producers are mindful of the fact that labor has borne a considerable share of the economic distress, the magazine indicated that some plan to spread work broadly, but not sufficiently to defeat the purpose of the cut, may be forthcoming with the wage reduction.

"Sufficient time is believed to have elapsed since the reduction of dividends and salaries, and other drastic economies have been in effect, to indicate that not much more can be expected in these directions. With the fourth quarter approaching and nothing more than a mild seasonal upturn in sight, steel companies believe further curtailment of costs is imperative if business recovery is to be encouraged."

attempts at the record must be made over a three-kilometer course.

The New England aviator made his amazing flight to qualify for the Thompson trophy race, scheduled for Labor Day. Another postponement of the Bendix derby, from Los Angeles to Cleveland, today automatically delayed further Thompson trial speed flight.

Hop Is Delayed

Foggy weather in Los Angeles caused the third postponement of the transcontinental hop. Seven of the nation's outstanding speed kings were poised to take off about three a. m. tomorrow (6 a. m. E. S. T.) in the race, one of the three major events of the race program.

Attracting a field of 11 clever racing pilots in specially built planes stream-lined for speed, the men's 50-mile dash for planes of 1,000 clubic-inch piston displacement was to conclude the competitive part of today's program. Among the contestants were John Livingston, who has been winning first places consistently in his bright yellow monocoupe, and J. G. Haizlip, Chicago pilot.

The two other racing contests today were 30-mile dashes for planes of 400 cubic inches and 650 cubic inches. Bayles and Livingston were considered among the leading contestants in the latter event. Ben Howard, Chicago, was entered with his pretty white home-made monoplane with which he qualified for the Thompson race yesterday at an average speed of 176 miles an hour

Udet is Honored.

In contrast with the fast-moving race events, but equally interesting and entertaining to the air race spectators, were the tactical maneuver performances of the army, navy and marines which also were included on today's program.

Flight Commander Richard L. R. Atherly of Great Britain, who was injured last week in a minor crash was to appear with the famous foreign team today. Major Ernst Udet, ranking German war ace, was the honored guest of the day, it being German day as well as governor's day at the races.

Governor George White was a visitor here yesterday after being brought to the airport by plane from the lakefront where he landed from the U. S. S. Wilmington.

Warren Flier Jumps.

A third service pilot became a member of the Caterpillar club for flyers who have leaped to safety in parachutes in one or two minor accidents yesterday. The pilot was Lieutenant Thayer Olds of Warren O., who "bailed out" when his plane developed motor trouble enroute to the races. Oliver Morard, Cleveland glider pilot, suffered a broken leg when his glider crashed after the rudder broke during a test flight.

Rain forced postponement of the last race of the afternoon after which Livingston also had won the men's 30-mile dash for 650 cubic inch planes.

French Delegates Utter Denials To Rumor At Geneva

Rumored That France Sought To Postpone World Arms Conference

(International News Service)

GENEVA, Sept. 2.—The French delegation to the League of Nations conference here today emphatically denied that France had approached the League Council or any other body with a suggestion that the World Disarmament Conference, scheduled for next February, be postponed.

"The French attitude toward the Disarmament Conference remains unchanged," the delegation stated in an official communication. "France still adheres to the date set, February 2, 1932 for calling the Second Disarmament Conference, and there is absolutely no question of France even envisaging a postponement."

The statement was in answer to statements published in the United States saying France had made an informal request to the League secretariate that the conference be postponed to a later date.

Herndon-Pangborn Are Given Permit To Fly Over Japan

American Airmen Get Permit To Continue Flight Across Pacific Ocean

(International News Service)

TOKYO, Sept. 2.—After weeks of delay the Japanese government today granted a permit to Hugh Herndon Jr. and Clyde Pangborn to take off from Tokyo on an attempted non-stop flight across the Pacific ocean to Seattle.

The airmen announced they would start to overhaul their plane tomorrow and would leave as soon as possible.

Meanwhile Don Moyle and C. A. Allen, another pair of American airmen hoping to bridge the Pacific without a stop, encountered an unexpected delay. The government informed them it would have to test their plane for its airworthiness before granting the permit for the take-off.

Herndon and Pangborn were overjoyed to receive their permit. They ran afoul of the strict Japanese espionage laws when they flew to Tokyo from Kharbarovsk, Siberia, without waiting for a permit.

Contends No Alarm Should Be Felt For Submarine Nautilus

No Unneccessary Alarm Felt For Wilkin's Sub—Wireless May Be Disabled

(International News Service)

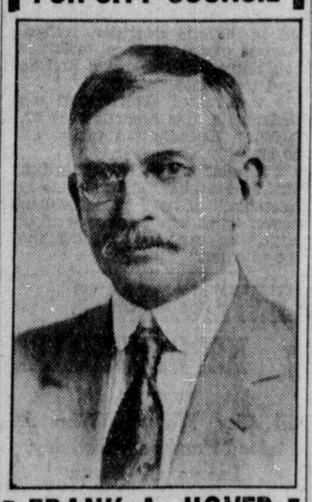

OSLO, Norway, Sept. 2—The Arctic Bureau of Norwegian government today issued an official communique saying no undue alarm should be felt for the safety of the Polar submarine of Sir Hubert Wilkins because the submarine may have been prevented from communicating with the outside world.

The Arctic bureau pointed out that a magnetic wall may have intervened between the Nautilus and the principal world radio stations thus rendering any radio signals from the Nautilus inaudible. Also, the bureau said, there was a possibility that the Nautilus' wireless equipment may have been disabled in some way.

It was rumored here that an amateur radio operator at Ktromsoe, Norway, had established contact with the Nautilus, but this could not be confirmed from any reliable source.

EPWORTH WOMEN ENTERTAIN AT TEA

The dining room of the Epworth Methodist Episcopal church was a veritable flower garden Tuesday afternoon when the women of the Chestnut street Unit of the Guild were hostesses to the women of the church at a silver tea.

Gladioli and dahlias in glowing colors, arranged in most effective bouquets were placed about the room and bud vases holding one exquisite bloom centered the small tables where refreshments were served. The flowers were presented by Bob Wingartner.

Mrs. H. G. Voorhees, leader of the hostess unit, presented a musical program during the early hours of the afternoon with Miss Helen Allen singing the opening vocal number; readings were given by Loretta Nicholson and Leona Sankey; Lavina McConahey pleased with a piano number, as did Mrs. Mellor, with a vocal selection and little Lenora Anne Pyle sang two numbers.

The playlet, "Pocahontas" which was cleverly portrayed by the women of the church, provoked much laughter.

At the conclusion of the program the over three hundred women were seated at small tables, arranged for four, and the women of the Guild served dainty refreshments.

A nice sum was realized for the building fund of the church from the silver contribution of those attending.

September 23 will mark the date of the next event of the Guild which will be in the form of a dinner in the church dining room.

RECEPTION TO HONOR DR. AND MRS. WALLACE

A social hour, honoring Dr. and Mrs. Charles W. Wallace and daughters, "Billy" and Becky" is arranged for this evening in the reception rooms of the United Presbyterian church at New Wilmington.

At nine o'clock, immediately following the regular prayer service there will be an informal program which will be followed by refreshments.

The pastor, Dr. J. R. Neale, and the committee are desirous that a large crowd be present to enjoy the fellowhip of the hour and to show appreciation and regard for the family, which is leaving the community.

Birthday Honored.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bigley of Morris street entertained a number of little folks in their home Monday, August 31, from 4 to 6 o'clock in celebration of the fourth birthday anniversary of their son Elmer, Jr.

The hours were spent in games and later a dainty lunch was served at a table beautifully decorated for the occasion. The guest list included Frances and Irene Zepka, Dorothy Nocera, Gladys Bigley, Betty Jane and Emil Smolnik, Marguerite Roberts, James Bigley, Stella and Josephine Tomon, Stanley and Lewis Kolodziej, Mrs. Emil Smolnik, Mr. and Mrs. William Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bigley and the honor guest, who was the recipient of many lovely gifts.

Reunion Scheduled

Descendants and relatives of the late Peter and Catherine Cribbs and the late Michael and Margaret Lusk Hettenbaugh will gather in reunion at Memorial park, Grove City, on Saturday, September 5.

Those attending are asked to bring a basket of food for the picnic dinner at noon, along with silverware and cups. Children will enjoy swimming during the afternoon.

LAMBERT REUNION ENJOYABLE EVENT

One of the most delightful and interesting reunions of the season was that of the descendants of George and Christena Lambert when they met at the home of Clayton Dindinger in Lancaster township recently for their second annual gathering.

The day was ideal for an out-door event, and in the shade of the huge apple trees in the orchard, the men of the clan had made elaborate preparations in the way of tables and serving equipment. Shortly after noon, a large assemblage of relatives and friends were renewing old friendships and making new ones, and at this time, the four long tables laden with dishes of appetizing foods prepared by the women, were surrounded by the guests, who par-took of the menu. Mrs. Sam Heberling who is skilled in the art of making coffee, performed the act over an open fire place, and the aroma that arose whetted the appetities of everyone. Covers marked for 125. Preceding the serving, the doxology was sung and prayer was offered by the Rev. George Lambert.

A short program consisting of singing, readings and impromptu remarks was given. Some who participated were Amiel Bratschie, Edwin Dindinger, Mrs. J. T. Campbell and R. F. Heberling. Rev. Lambert gave a reading as did Ella Bratschie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Bratschie of New Castle.

During the business session that followed, officers were elected, namely; president, Henry Lehman, New Castle; vice-president, Henry Bratschie, New Castle; secretary, Marie Lehman, Portersville; treasurer, Thomas Heberling, Butler. It was decided to hold the reunion in 1932 on the last Saturday in August. After the serving of supper at 6 o'clock—sports and contests of various kinds were in order.

This was the closing feature, and all present voted the affair most enjoyable as well as successful.

BETH SHALOM PLANS CORN ROAST TONIGHT

The best laid plans of mice and men oft go astray" and this is what happened Tuesday evening when the weather man took a hand in the plans of the Beth Shalom Sisterhood and the corn roast planned for then will be held this evening instead and if the weather is propitious the group will assemble at Cascade Park, but in case of rain the event will be held in Beth Shalom center, Boyles avenue.

H. G. L. Girls Club

The H. G. L. Girls Club entertained at a theatre party Tuesday evening, which marked a special event on their social calendar. Twelve were in attendance, and following the show, all departed for home.

It was decided at this time that their regular meeting would be held on September 18, with Miss Astrid Nelson of Neshannock boulevard as hostess.

FIELD CLUB MEMBERS PLAN FOR CORN ROAST

All plans have been completed for one of the finest and unusually entertaining events scheduled for members of the New Castle Field club house and their wives and families which, will be held at the club house on Thursday evening. The affair will be in the form of a corn roast which will be in order at 6:30 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Elder, who are chairmen of this event, have appointed the following on their committee: Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Street, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. McLure, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Long, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Frushour and Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Wheeler. Everyone is cooperating splendidly to insure its success. Following the main feature, a program of amusements has been planned that will occupy the attention of the guests until time to depart for home.

BALDWIN REUNION TO BE HELD LABOR DAY

The annual reunion of the Baldwin families is scheduled to take place on Monday September 7 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Farrell of the Princeton Rd. Dinner will be served at noon followed by a program of sports that will entertain every member of the family. Supper will be served at 6 o'clock, preceded by a business session when election of officers will take place.

Kingsley Reunion

The descendants of the late Henry and Tauber Dunbar Kingsley gathered at "Airy View" farm at Emlenton, on a recent day for their annual reunion. Guests numbered seventy-five, and Mrs. Lucinda Kerr Kingsley who resides at 1001 Chestnut street, Franklin, was the oldest one present, being in her ninety-first year and belonging to the third generation. The two month old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Rooney of Verona, carried the honors of being the youngest in attendance, belonging to the fifth generation.

At 1 o'clock, a good old fashioned dinner was served by the Ladies Aid Society of the Emlenton church. Following, a business meeting was called, and officers elected. They are, John F. Harper, North Washington, President; Mrs. Clara Kingsley, secretary and treasurer. With the president presiding, it was decided to hold the reunion in 1932 at the Old Mill Inn on the third Saturday in August. A collection was taken up, and all adjourned to the living room, where a period of old time songs were enjoyed with Mrs. Guy Collor at the piano. A vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. Gates for her hospitality extended to this group.

Guests were present from Warren, O., Akron, O., Verona, Franklin, Rocky Grove, Grove City, North Washington, and Leachburg, as well as Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Adams and daughter, Mrs. George Milnet and children, of Emlenton and descendants of the late Adeline Kingsley Adams.

W. W. M. G. Party

Earnest King, Ellwood City road, was host to the members of the W. W. M. G. class of the Third United Presbyterian church Tuesday evening at a corn roast.

The members enjoyed games and stunts in the yard, where a large bonfire had been built until old Jupiter Pluvius took it into his head to send down a shower of rain and this drove the group into the house where the balance of the evening was spent.

The corn and weiners with all the trimmings were then served at tables in the dinning room and a profusion of summer flowers added an air of festivity to the event.

Mrs. John King, Ruth King and Bob Kyle assisted the host in seeing that every one had a sufficient number of "roasting ears" and "hot dogs."

Birthday Party

In honor of the birthday of Hazel Updegraff, Mr. and Mrs. Hall Davis of the Harbor entertained a group of friends Tuesday evening. The hours were pleasantly spent with chat and music. The home was prettily decorated with cut flowers.

The hostess served a very delicious lunch during the evening. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ruby Rote, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Baldwin and family and Mr. and Mrs. George Lemly and family. The honor guest received many lovely gifts.

Silver Kraft Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Thompson, Croton avenue, entertained members of the Silver Kraft club in their home Tuesday evening for the bi-weekly session.

Cards were the chief diversion of the evening after which a social time of music and conversation was enjoyed.

The small tables were prettily decorated with summer flowers when the hostess served refreshments late in the evening and the group dispersed to meet September 15 with Mr. and Mrs. Amos Tunison, Croton avenue.

Class Will Picnic.

The class of girls of the First Methodist church, taught by Miss Mary Nunn, will picnic at Cascade Park Friday, with luncheon served at one o'clock.

CLASS HONORS BRIDE WITH GIFT SHOWER

A most interesting social affair of Tuesday evening was the annual dinner of the P. B. N. C. class of the Second United Presbyterian church given by the teacher, Margaret Brenner, in the home of Mrs. John Brenner, near Portersville, honoring those who have returned from vacations and those who are about to leave for school, although an additional honored member was added Tuesday evening, Mrs. Chester Campbell, a recent bride.

An effective color scheme of green, pink and orchid was carried out in the table appointments and a most delicious menu of chicken and its accompaniments was served.

At the conclusion of serving each guest took hold of a white ribbon which led from her place to the hands of a miniature bride and groom in the center of the table, and when the end of the ribbon was reached a card was attached which directed the holder to perform some stunt, but when it came to that of Mrs. Campbell she was directed to go into the living room, where she found a large umbrella hoisted over a pile of mysterious looking packages, and upon opening same she found innumerable lovely gifts for her new home.

The remaining evening hours were spent in music and general conversation.

TUESDAY BRIDGE CLUB OPENS FALL SEASON

Associates of the Tuesday Bridge Club were received at the home of Mrs. Clarence Jarrett on Ray street last evening, for their first social gathering of the Fall season. Cards occupied the attention of the guests during the early hours, and prizes for scores were awarded to Mrs. John Streator and Miss Della Absalom at the conclusion of play.

A dainty lunch served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Robert Gowell who was a special guest of the evening, was the closing feature.

On Tuesday, September 8, the club will be guests of Mrs. Earl Ramsey at her cottage. Plans for their next regular session will be decided at this time.

Entertains Executives

Miss Lucille Kison, East Park avenue, was hostess Tuesday evening to the members of the executive committee of the Highland Y. P. C. U. for the first meeting of the fall and winter season.

Miss Bertha Dodds led the devotional opening and Miss Lois Williamson, president was in charge of the buiness session.

Henry Brenneman, who is editor-in-chief of the "Highland Fling" gave the executives their assignments for the September issue.

Misses Betty Houston, Katharine Dickson, Lucille Kison and Frank Baldwin were appointed as copy editors.

Mrs. Hazel Brenneman announced that the next regular meeting of the Y. P. C. U. would be on September 8, and plans are under way for an out-door affair at this time.

At the close of business the group was invited into the dinning room by the hostess' mother and refreshments were served; the table being centered with a bowl of Japanese lanterns and baby breath.

Bingo was the divertisement of the social hour and many prizes were distributed to the winners.

Dr. T. J. McFate, Park avenue, will be host to the executives for the October meeting.

Mizpah Society

The Mizpah Society of the First Presbyterian church began their fall and winter activities Tuesday evening with the first fall meeting held in the church parlors with Mrs. J. R. Snyder in charge of the devotional period.

Miss Fanny Perry had the foreign topic "The Modern World," Mrs. Howard Magill had the home topic "Young People Around the World" and Mrs. J. G. Gates had an interesting paper on "An Alphabet of Action" describing many ways the society can be more useful.

Plans were made for a tea in the home of Mrs. Ross Kirkpatrick, 305 Euclid avenue on Tuesday evening, September 15.

October 6 will mark the date of the next meeting, when Miss Elizabeth Hainer, Miss Christine Butler, and Mrs. J. C. Jenkins will be the leaders and 'Native Alaskans" and "India" will be the topics under discussion.

Mrs. Howard Magill, Mrs. E. H. McNees and Miss Ella McConnell will be associate hostesses with Mrs. Kirkpatrick at the tea September 15.

Nous A Mon Girls

The Nous A Mon Girls club held a picnic dinner at Etna Springs Tuesday evening with the husbands and friends as special guests.

A sumptuous picnic dinner was served at 7 o'clock after which the group enjoyed a number of games and dancing after which they went to the home of the president, Mrs. Katharine McClintock where cards and a social time occupied the balance of the evening hours.

Tuesday September 15, the club will meet again, at a place to be announced.

Neighborhood Party

Tuesday evening a group of friends and neighbors assembled at Cascade park at 6:30 to enjoy a corn roast and picnic dinner. Places were arranged for 22 at tables in the grove and a most sumptuous repast was served, with plenty of roasting ears to go around.

Games and group singing filled the after dinner hours and prizes were won by J. Graham and M. McKiver. The main feature of the contests was a water drinking contest, which was won by Grace Warso and Mrs. J. Graham.

The group included Mr. and Mrs. W. Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. J. Graham and family, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Jenkins and family, Mrs. Grace Warso and family, Misses Laura Dugan, A. Smith, Leona Nolan, J. Hilder, W. McKiver, Mrs. Ed Nolan and J. Larimer.

S. of D. Girls Meet

Opening their fall season the S. of D. Girls of the Central Presbyterian church met in the church parlors Tuesday evening with Mrs. Madeline McCollum as the leader.

Mrs. Bernice Hague discussed the foreign topic; Mrs. Oscar Rhodes handled the home topic and after a period of missionary discussion a social time was enjoyed.

Plans were discussed for a "depression tea" which will be held in the church parlors on Tuesday, September 29, and Mrs. Sylvia Sturtevant was appointed chairman of arrangements.

Concluding the evening refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Bertha Moser, Mrs. Alice Martin, Mrs. Alice Allen, Misses Hilda Joyce and Louise Dwyer.

October 6, will mark the date of the next regular meeting.

Intermediates Frolic

Close to 40 members and friends of the Intermediate department of the First U. P. church, Clenmore boulevard, attended a corn and wiener roast of the department at Lakewood beach last night.

Various sports were enjoyed at the beach until the hour of 9, at which time the corn and wieners were served.

Special guests were Dr. and Mrs. S. E. Irvine.

Macedonian Circle

The various societies of the churches of the city are getting back into harness for the winter's work and the first fall meeting of the Macedonian Circle of the Second United Presbyterian church was held Tuesday evening in the form of a tureen dinner in the church dining room at 6:30 with places marked for seventeen. The table was attractive with a centerpiece of late summer flowers and tureens of delicious foods.

Mrs. S. Garman Johnson was the guest speaker and she gave a report of the recent W. G. M. S. conference. Miss Hazel Louise Campbell, accompanied by Evea Coulter, sang several numbers.

Mrs. C. E. Book, Mrs. Ella Garroway, Mrs. Joseph McClaren and Mrs. L. A. Reeher were in charge of arrangements.

October 6, will mark the date of the next meeting, which will be in charge of Group 2.

Mrs. Eddie Weygant and children, of MacDonald, Pa., are visiting Mrs. Katherine Ryan, 107 Pine street.

TREASURY PLANS EPOCHAL LOAN

WHEN the country was in the hey-day of prosperity, prior to the stock market collapse of October, 1929, congress shaved the income tax rate by one cent on each dollar of net income. Meanwhile the treasury had for some years been reducing the national debt by using the surplus for that purpose and was paring down the federal obligations more rapidly than originally contemplated. In an era of plenty, Mr. Mellon believed, one should redeem the loans necessitated in times of stress.

Some politicians opposed the view and thought to make votes by a bigger reduction in taxes. Present conditions have now proved the wisdom of the secretary's counsel. Had the public in general been like-minded with private affairs, the people would have paid off their mortgages instead of investing everything in stock market margins. The inevitable collapse would have found them in stronger financial position in their personal affairs than they are today.

If Secretary Mellon had sacrificed financial foresight to political expediency, the treasury deficit would now be serious, reflects the Philadelphia Inquirer. While admittedly large enough to call for rigid economies, it is by no means so devastating as the problem confronting Great Britain. From 1922, when the upward movement began, to 1929, when it ceased, were seven years of prosperity. Biblical precedent might suggest that seven lean years were to follow. But there is reason for believing the depression will not be so long. Our economic adjustments are more quickly made in the modern age. For more factors enter the equation. A harvest or a famine could make or break Egypt, whereas we must also consider distribution and employment, regardless of surplus harvests.

Mr. Mellon keeps looking ahead. As he sees in the present a fulfillment of the vision of a few years ago, with equal assurance he looks to the future to extricate us from our immediate predicament. So he is floating a billion-dollar loan at the lowest rates in history. A joint offering is announced of long-term bonds, $800,000,000 at three per cent, and short-term certificates, $300,000,000 at 1½ per cent. Experts are confident that the issue will be oversubscribed. Part of the proceeds will be used for liquidating loans now near maturity. Thus the secretary is devoting the revenues of a coming prosperity to meet that part of our present emergency which our erstwhile prosperity failed to reach. The success of his plan will mark an epoch of peace-time financing.

THE VALUE OF OUTDOORS

The American people more and more utilize the great outdoors. This year, they will have used it to the extent of a billion dollars—that is, they will have spent that much outdoors. It is a big sum, hardly credible until one analyzes expenditure.

To begin with, tourists will have spent $500,000,000 or more, the larger part this year in their own country. Sportsmen and hunters will have spent $350,000,000, golfers, tennis, and lacrosse players $100,000,000 more, and campers, etc., half as much. These estimates are based on the reports of the several states to the American Game Commission.

These estimates do not include money spent on trains, boats, or busses, or at summer hotels, where many Americans enjoy outdoors. If these expenditures were added, another billion might be found. But money value isn't everything—recreation and health values are incalculable.

JAPANESE JINGOISM

Japan may have been justified in punishing the world-fliers Herndon and Pangborn for photographing fortifications and otherwise violating Japanese aviation laws, but her subsequent stubborn refusal to permit them to take off from Japanese territory for a trans-Pacific flight to the United States has been in bad taste from the first.

If the Japanese government values the good will of the American people, it will not let a few fire-brand jingoes make out of the Pangborn-Herndon incident a great international plot. By refusing the aviators their flying papers the government is lending official credence to the wild talk of a lot of fanatics,

Perhaps the whole-hearted welcome and ringing reception accorded the Lindberghs will soften the feeling against the two less fortunate fliers. The very fact that the Lindberghs have not aroused the suspicions of the Japanese militarists colors the attitude toward Pangborn and Herndon with insincertiy. Comparing the two flights, the only crime of the first seems to lie in the fact that the two fliers took one too many pictures.

There is an element in Japan which has gone far in this ridiculous incident to convince the American people that the "Yellow Peril" is not oriental militarism but oriental credulity and hallucinations.

SUGGESTS TAX ON FOOTBALL PROFITS

When does an amateur sport become professional? When does a "charitable" institution become a profit-making business? According to Henry Smith Pritchett, president of the Carnegie Endowment for the Advancement of Teaching, the answer is: When college stadiums and football teams are used to make big profits by giving public shows.

Football, he insists, has turned commercial. Stadiums like the ones at Yale and South Bend, Ind., are money-making institutions, exploiting students and operated for publicity purposes to attract more students. Football plays a large part in the college budget.

So he raises the question whether college football should not be taxed like other commercial enterprises. He doesn't see why Harvard, for instance, deriving about $1,250,000 a year from athletics, mostly from football, shouldn't pay taxes on that sum as any other business would.

Not that anybody cares much about raising public funds by taxing colleges. But Mr. Pinchot thinks it is one way to reform the colleges and bring students back to "genuine college study and social life." Wherein he is probably right.

You Should Know Montaigne He Knew Everybody Including You and Me

By MARSHALL MASLIN

There was a man and his name was Montaigne, and he lived in the city of Bordeaux, in France, nearly four centuries ago.

There were civil wars that lasted a full generation, at least, that tore France to pieces. And intemperate soldiers, out of hand and leaderless, pillaged the land—but no soldier in all those years came into the house of the wise Montaigne.

Why did that occur? How was he safe when death stormed all about him and cut bolder men down?

* * *

I shall tell you. In his own words, almost. He was safe because there was no lock on his door and any man might give the door a gentle shove and enter the stronghold of Michael de Montaigne.

In the midst of menaces he wrote: "Defense allures the enterprising, and distrust provokes them. I have baffled the designs of the soldiery by depriving the exploit of all danger and all chance of military glory, which have usually provided them with an excuse and a pretext. Every courageous deed is an honorable deed in times when justice is dead. I have thus made the conquest of my house a cowardly action and a treachery. It is closed to nobody who knocks. It is provided with no other safeguard but a porter with old-fashioned ceremonious manners, whose office is not to forbid my door, but rather to offer it with the more grace and decorum. I have no other sentinel nor watch but what the stars keep for me. . . .

"My house was strong for the time when it was built. I have added nothing to it in the way of strength and should be afraid that its strength might be turned against me. . . . The fact that so many strongly guarded houses have been destroyed, whilst mine endures, makes me suspect that they were destroyed because they were strongly guarded. . . . For my part, I do not budge. . . . I will neither fear nor save myself by halves."

* * *

And were that wise Montaigne a sermonizing, sententious fellow, he would go further and say to you:

"I advise you to do as I did. Raise no strong defenses. Do not keep your guard up always. Trust your fellows. Do not attack them with anger or with disdain. Smile sweetly upon their scowling countenances and they will be ashamed and they will sheathe their daggers of envy and you, my clever friend, will be as safe as the tiger's child. I proved it, sirs, in 30 years of war—and you may prove it, too, in the peaceful affairs of men."

* * *

And some time, in a library, look for the "Essays of Montaigne" and take them fro mthe shelf. Have you 15 minutes to spend on this rare and timeless fellow? Hours later you will still be reading his pages—reading him—and years later you'll still be remembering his wisdom!

ON SHOPPING TOURS

When Nellie goes shopping 'tis safer for me
To stay in the car or to walk around the block;
I am lost if I ever step in just to see
The lovely new things which the store has in stock.
Once within where the bargains are spread out to show
She knows very well that I'll never say "no!"

I've heard that some husbands, with splendid success,
Insist that their wives within reason shall keep
And can really convince them the costlier dress
Is not nearly so nice as the one that is cheap,
Well, let that sort of husband go shopping! Not I.
The prettiest gown is the one that I buy.

This counting your pennies is all very well,
For those who are careful and thoughtful and wise,
There are men who can stand when the clerks try to sell
And look on temptation with lustreless eyes,
But not I! For whenever I'm coaxed in to look
I am caught like a fish who has swallowed the hook.

So when Nellie goes shopping I sit in the car
Or stroll up and down till she comes from the store,
I don't dare to go where the pretty things are
For I've learned when I do that it always costs more.
Confronted by splendors, she knows what I'll do
For I'm the extravagant one of the two.

Dear Fred: I sometimes wonder why writers of articles spring wrong information onto the reading public. Someone is bound to call their bluff.

A few days ago I read a description of historic Salem, Mass. The writer minutely described a secret staircase in "The House of Seven Gables." There is no such thing there. But there is a secret door beside the old fire place, where the weak minded brother hid in a compartment. As mentioned in Hawthorne's classic.

The writer might have made an interesting article if he had mentioned the quaint old garden, with its scarlet creepers, where Hawthorne used to sit, and write. And there is the big mahogany table in the old living-room; where the literary light of that period used to gather around and sip wine. And he failed to mention the seven gables; each one occupied by a character from that delightful old classic, "The House of Seven Gables."

Coffee-Wheat Transaction Fires American Imagination

Public Unable To Agree On Economic Effect Of Deal With Brazil But Finds Originality In Return To Primitive Idea Of Barter.

Great differences of opinion have developed as to the deal of the American Farm Board for an exchange of 25,000,000 bushels of surplus wheat for 1,050,000 bags of coffee held by the Brazilian government. Economic value of the exchange is a subject for argument. Unprecedented barter, however, appeals to the American imagination and leads to the query as to how far the exchange of commodities is likely to go.

"Brazil's purchase, China's bid for a vast amount on credit and other undisclosed negotiations do not come as a surprise to anyone who has not been suffering from hysteria," declared the ST. LOUIS TIMES, with the prediction: "Wheat is not going to remain at its 'low.' It will increase in price as other less favored lands come here to make up their depleted stores. If all of our potential customers come up to Uncle Sam's counter, it may be that flap-jacks will be a luxury for breakfast along about the middle of January. The ROCHESTER TIMES UNION suggests "good results in the future" offering the explanation: "Brazil has not been a large importer of American wheat; this country has always been a large importer of Brazilian coffee. We have opened new trade relations with that country. This plan does not require payment of money by Brazil to secure our wheat. And the amount of coffee which we receive from Brazil will reduce the amount of coffee that we would pay for in cash if this barter had not been made."

"The gigantic swap seems eminently wise. It should prove mutually beneficial" in the opinion of the CHICAGO DAILY NEWS, which states further: "The success of the ingenious device by which two great nations mitigate the effects of their economic flirtations with the law of supply and demand perhaps will lead to similar arrangements with other countries embarrased by commodity surpluses. In the case of China, impoverished by civil war, communist insurrections and disastrous floods affecting millions of peasants and city dwellers, barter appears to be out of the question. China needs gratuities, not loans, to alleviate the suffering in its starving provinces."

"At a time when international exchange and domestic exchange are not working satisfactorily with money and credit as a medium," remarks the TOPEKA DAILY CAPITAL, "the Farm Board cuts crosslots and performs its difficult function by return to the barter system." That paper asks "Are nations to exchange surpluses, thereby not only avoiding the use of money, but credit charges and interest on money." The DULUTH HERALD concludes that "the exigencies of this mad period when people are hungry because there is too much food seem to have driven us back to the primitive." The WHEELING INTELLIGENCER, suggesting that "more deals of this character could be undertaken to advantage," and calling the exchange the most sensible step yet taken to help straighten out the tangled snarl of world supply and demand" asserts: "It is doubtful if there exists a world overproduction of the necessities of life. The trouble is with distribution. If such exchanges as are now under way be carried on without disrupting trade, they should be encouraged."

"There is a six months' supply of coffee for the American farms already on the shelves of the stores or in the wholesale warehouses of this country," avers the FORT WORTH STAR-TELEGRAM, with the suggestion: "Maybe Brazil can use the American wheat. We hope so. It is too bad if trading on such a colossal scale contains nothing more than grief for both traders." The NEW YORK TIMES asserts: "If 25,000,000 bushels of American wheat are to be sent into Brazil, displacing to that extent wheat ordinarily imported from Argentina, a corresponding amount of Argentine wheat will be freed for competition with American wheat in European markets. Prices in this country will not thereby be made higher."

"Maybe the board, as the largest holder of coffee in the United States" according to the CHARLOTTE OBSERVER, "will be able to supply the organized trade with coffee on a cheaper basis than it could have secured from the Brazilian dealers, for the coffee coming in would be as cheap as the wheat that was swapped for it." Holding that "one white elephant is to be swapped for another," the LYNCHBURG NEWS contends that "exchanging the wheat of one nation for the coffee of another does not change the world situation as regards either commodity." The MORGANTOWN DOMINION NEWS predicts that "the Argentine grower will not meet this loss of a market with inaction, "but will "enter into competion with American growers in other world markets." The CHARLESTON (W. V.) DAILY MAIL, considering the effect on flour exports to Brazil, believes that it would be "something like cutting off the end of a stick and adding something to the other end."

"The exchange," in the judgment of the WASHINGTON EVENING STAR, "should present other opportunities for international barter in commodities. The Farm Board still has lots of wheat and cotton, not to mention wine concentrate. As for the Government's entering the coffee business—oh, well, we can at least hope that it knows its coffee and will be content with only the best." The SCRANTON TIMES adds the comment: "The trade stirs interest not only because of the novelty but from the possibility that it opens up similar exchanges with other countries. Should such trades follow our farm board may easily become the proprietor of a great country store with huge stocks of staple commodities—wheat, cotton, coffee and tea. The idea fires the imagination."

"In recouping some of its losses next year," says the SPRINGFIELD (Mass.) REPUBLICAN, "the government may sell its coffee in the American market with the less trepidation because no one in the United States grows coffee. Porto Ricans grow it, and they would have a grievance against the Washington administration, but Porto Ricans do not vote in our presidential elections. The political skill displayed in the wheat-coffee deal surpasses the commercial shrewdness of it."

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

THE SPENDERS

Who and what are responsible for the High Cost of Government?

Previous to 1913 the people of the United States were lightly taxed. There was no Income Tax; there was no Inheritance Tax; there was no Personal Property Taxes worth mentioning; Real Estate Taxes were reasonable and while the Perenial Kicker as a matter of principle objected to his Tax Bill, it was unnecessary to sacrifice each year in order to pay the Publican. Now what, in Heaven name has happened?

Theodore Roosevelt was honest, some of his followers were also honest but the rank and file of those who joined his banner only saw the great opportunity to multiply Laws and Commissions by which they and their henchmen might feed at the Public Crib. From the date of the famous bolt from the Republican Party in 1912 Congress, State Legislatures, County and City Law Makers have lain awake nights planing new Commissions, new Investigation Committees, new Officials, new Secretaries and every device of which they could think to meddle with private affairs and regulate the minutest conduct of the citizen.

This has cost an ever increasing amount of money but that was not enough. Congress, Legislatures, Presidents and Governors have decided that the failures should be supported from the Public Purse and this resulted in having a Congress which as its last session spent more money than any other peace time Congress and at a time when it should have spent the least.

Ye canna' beat it.

Crude Oil Industry Is On Substantial Basis Result Of Proration

Red Letter Day In Oil Industry After Tough Three Years Battle

Gradually Advancing Scale Of Oil Prices Will Result Is Belief

By W. S. COUSINS
International News Service
Financial Editor

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Effective proration and control of crude oil production, now an accomplished fact, has placed the oil industry on a solid, substantial basis.

So declared E. B. Reeser, president of Barnsdall Corporation and president of the American Petroleum Institute today, in summarizing for International News Service exclusively the results of the recent revolutionary changes in crude oil production in the states of Texas and Oklahoma.

All Under Proration.

"This is a red letter day in oil," said Reeser. "After three years of intense fighting against the most wasteful and unsound methods known to this or any other industry, every oil field in the United States is under proration. Oil supplies will be accurately and scientifically matched up against actual needs.

"This marks the end of the old idea of operating the industry strictly on a supply-and-demand basis and the beginning of the reasonable theory of holding reserves in the ground instead of storing them above ground in a wasteful and extravagant manner. This means a great deal to the oil industry, but it means much more to the consumer, who has been purchasing his supplies under cost."

Prices Advanced.

Forecasting a gradually advancing scale of prices in the oil industry as a whole, Reeser stressed the fact that the products of any substantial industry must be maintained on an equitably remunerative basis. Otherwise business will eventually stagnate and the consumer will suffer most of all. He pointed out that in recent years there has been an enormous increase in the investors' financial interest in the oil companies, and that the returns to them as well as to the managers have been meagre.

Mr. Resser was in accord with the attitude and actions of the governors of Texas and Oklahoma in enforcing, with the aid of state troops, the closing of the flush wells in East Texas and Mid-Continent. The Oil fields, he said, constitute in part the resources and furnish the funds necessary to operate the governmental machinery of the states in question. In Texas, millions of acres of oil lands belong to the university of Texas, which leased them on a royalty basis to the oil producers. When prices dropped to ten cents a barrel, there was nothing for anybody in the production business and a valuable natural resource was being wasted. Thus the state legislatures called a halt and the governors enforced their mandates at the point of the bayonet.

Outlook Is Brighter

"The future outlook in the oil industry is brighter than that of many other industries," Mr. Resser said, "because of the fact that the use of oil products has not decreased during the depression period. In the first six months of this year, oil consumption has actually increased 2.26 per cent, which compares with a sharp curtailment of consumption in practically all other lines. Even at fair prices, which we are not now receiving, Petroleum is the cheapest fuel and the cheapest form of transportation power one can buy."

Net results of the cessation of production in East Texas and Oklahoma, according to Resser, are seen in a decrease in daily Crude Oil output of approximately 1,500,000 barrels. Poration will restore 500,000 barrels daily, bringing the total daily normal production to 2,225,000 barrels. This, he said, will provide the base for all oil refining processes in normal times, and allow of a reasonable withdrawal from storage in the heavy consuming seasions. High cost of storage has long been a wasteful handicap to the industry.

Corner Is Turned

"I firmly believe," said Resser, "that the oil industry has turned the corner. The oil poration, being a sound and sensible conservation process, will not be a temporary expedient but a permanent check against wasteful over-production.

"Twenty thousand new wells are required each year to maintain the required supply. Equal to the demand. The time is approaching when it will be difficult to find locations on which to drill such a large number of wells. Some day the national defense will deem it very important to have the production from the large wells. They the small wells, which without poration would have to be abandoned, will under this system be conserved for consumers' use."

May Take Lesson

Reeser believes that industry as a whole might take a lesson from the Oil industry and porate labor in the various activities. The chief stumbling block in the road to business recovery today, he said, is fear, and that could be removed by scientific apportignment of labor in much the same way as the railroad industry has done. A gradual improvement from now until Spring and pronounced upturn in American business after that time, is Ressner's forecast for the country as a whole.

Stork Overtakes Train To New York

Prominent Pittsburgh Society Matron Gives Birth To Daughter On Train

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 2.—A train carrying Mrs. George W. Crawford, Pittsburgh society matron, from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., to New York yesterday, was overtaken by the stork according to word received here.

Mrs. Crawford and her newly born daughter were reported doing well in a New York hospital today.

Mr. and Mrs. Crawford were enroute from their summer vacation at the West Virginia resort and were well on their way to New York when a physician was summoned on board.

Prior to her marriage four years ago, Mrs. Crawford was a St. Louis girl. Her husband is chairman of the board of the Columbia Gas & Electric corporation.

Vatican-Italian Row Is Finally Settled

Formal Agreement Covering All Points Of Recent Dispute Has Been Signed

Hailed As Definite Ending Of Quarrel That Threatened Hopeless Breach

By GUGLIELMO EMANUEL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ROME, Sept. 2.—The serious controversy between the Italian government and the Vatican over activities of the Azione Cattolica, the nationwide organization of Catholic youth, was ended today with official announcement of a formal agreement covering all points of the dispute.

The announcement, made simultaneously by the Quirinal and the Vatican, represented compromises on both sides and was hailed as definitely ending the quarrel that at one time threatened a hopeless breach in relations between church and state.

Three Chief Points

The accord was based upon three chief points and becomes effective immediately.

The text of the agreement follows:

"The Vatican and the Italian government have reached an accord on the following terms concerning dissolution of juvenile clubs belonging to the Azione Cattolica and the general activities of the Azione Cattolica.

"1. The Azione is to be an organization essentially diocesan, depending directly upon the bishops, who will nominate all officials, both laymen and clergymen.

"2. Individuals who previously belonged to political parties contrary to the Fascist regime are forbidden nomination to official positions in the Azione Cattolica.

"3. The Azione must be strictly religious, not participating in politics, and organizations connected with it must also refrain from political activity.

"4. All Azione Cattolica organizations must use only the Italian national flag.

The foregoing sub-divisions comprised "point one" of the agreement. "Point two" read as follows:

"The Azione Cattolica's future program must not include formation of associations of a professional character, such as workmens' syndicates. The professional section of the Azione Cattolica already existing under the law of April 3, 1926, must have strictly religious and spiritual aims and support Fascist syndicates to enable better unity and collaboration of all classes."

"Point three" was as follows:

"Juvenile clubs belonging to the Azione Cattolica will be called the Juvenile Association of Azione Cattolica, and will be allowed their own badges and cards strictly corresponding to religious aims. Their flag must be the Italian national emblem, but they will be allowed religious banners.

"Clubs must refrain from sporting activities and organize entertainments of an educational and amusement only, and always with religious aims."

Magee Is Named On Securities Commission Today

Former Pittsburgh Congressman Replaces Fellow Townsman On Board

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Sept. 2.—Former Congressman James M. Magee, Pittsburgh, has been named as chairman of the Pennsylvania securities commission to replace Paul W. Leitch, Pittsburgh, the governor's office announced today.

The reappointment of Dr. Charles E. Dickey, Pittsburgh, as a member of the state council of education also was announced.

Harold Martin has been named as a justice of the peace in Westtown, Chester county.

The removal of Leitch from the securities commission leaves only W. Searight Stuart, Carlisle, on the old board. Charles E. Asnis, Philadelphia, was named last night to replace Henry F. Walton, Philadelphia.

Exports During Year Are Less

American Purchases Abroad Also Show Big Decline During Period

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Foreign trade with all principal countries showed a heavy reduction during the first seven months of 1931, the Commence department announced today.

Exports were valued at $1,496,000, a reduction of $846,000,000 while American purchase abroad amounted to $1,281,800,000, a drop of $675,000,000.

Exports to Europe totaled $671,051,000, a reduction of $348,000,000; to North American $394,568,000, a reduction of $260,000,000; South America $107,928,000, a drop of $105,000,000; and to Asia $216,398,000, a fall of $60,000,000.

The money spent on armed forces isn't wasted. Think what it means to the bean growers.

Hay Fever Treatment Is Outlined

Doctor Advises Goggles, Eye Douches For Relief

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

So far this week we have discussed methods of preventing hay fever. But supposing the methods have failed partially or completely and the attack is on. What can be done for relief?

The important points of attack are the eyes. I am of the opinion that much of the trouble in the nose gets there from the eyes. It must, of course, be familiar that all the moisture from tears and the secretion of the tear ducts goes into the nose through the lacrimal ducts which pass from the inner corner of the eyes into the nose.

The pollen grains which cause hay fever dissolve quickly and readily in salt solution. So they find ready means of such dissolution in the normal secretion of the tear glands constantly moistening the conjunctiva. This solution constantly bathing the nose, I believe, causes much of the irritation set up there.

The eyes then should be protected day and night. Close fitting goggles, so long as the weather and perspiration permit, should be used. The eyes should also be douched regularly with boric acid or other preparation.

Epinephrin, commonly known as adrenalin, is the sovereign remedy for the hypersensitive state. It should be used in strength and amounts recommended by a physician and can be used both as a nasal spray and as drops in the eye. Another drug lately made a part of our medical equipment is ephedrine, which can be used in solution in the same way as adrenalin.

The most effective remedy for the relief of the itching of the eyes in my experience is a solution known as "estivin".

The most troublesome feature of the hay fever attack is asthma. This comes on usually late in the attack when the fall rains begin. Why it should be worse during rain is not easy to understand. One would think that the rain would wash the pollen grains out of the atmosphere and hence make the condition better. The only explanation that entirely fits the case is that the rain dissolves the pollen on the ground and the steam which arises is a concentrated dose of pollen extract.

The treatment of the asthmatic attack usually requires the services of a physician. Adrenalin and ephedrine here come into play again, both as nasal sprays and by hypodermic injection. The smoking of asthma powder cigarettes or the inhalation of the fumes of asthma powder gives relief to many. These powders are made usually of stamonium leaves and nitrate of potash. They are put up by all drug manufacturers in proper and safe proportions and in pleasant form, and can be purchased at any drug store.

QUESTIONS FROM READERS

Mrs. R.: "I have always been bothered with pimples or blackheads all over my face. What can I do to get rid of them?"

Answer: The treatment was described a week or so ago in this column. Cleansing with tincture of green soap, or pulverized almond meal is advised. Remove blackheads with comedone extractor. See pamphlet—"Care of Skin and Hair."

* * *

R. M.: "Is mercurochrome harmful or beneficial to the throat if the throat is painted with it?"

Answer: Mercurochrome destroys infection without harming living tissues, so in the presence of infection it is beneficial, but has no other properties. As it contains a considerable amount of mercury, there is some danger of absorption if used frequently on the inside of the throat.

Austrian Challenges Britisher To Duel

Duel Would Be Staged Over Attention Paid To Noted German Beauty

By J. K. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Sept. 2.—A bitter quarrel between a titled Austrian and a British army officer over a noted German beauty resulted Tuesday in a challenge to a duel.

The challenge was offered by Count Anton Czernin, son of Count Ottokar Czernin, former Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, through the medium of the London Evening Standard. The man chosen as his opponent is Captain Charles Weven Lincoln of London.

Community's Clubs To Consider Local Blind Relief Plan

Attempt Will Be Made To Centralize Present Work Of City Groups

Methods of procedure in relief work among the Lawrence county blind during the ensuing year will be the chief object upon which will be centered the interests of representatives of various civic clubs here who will assemble to discuss general plans on Thursday night.

While it is unknown just what steps will be taken tomorrow, the sole aim for summoning together those interested in blind work will be to work out a tentative plan for concentrating relief effort and for handling cases.

Among the clubs to be represented will be the Business and Professional Women's club, the Federation of Women's clubs, the Council of Jewish Women, the Ladies of the Lions and the Lions club itself. Blind work is the major activity of the Lions.

It was explained today that any community organization whatever, whose interest focus toward blind work, is asked to send someone to the meeting in their behalf.

The session will occur in the Book-Leyde funeral parlors, Neshannock avenue, at 8 o'clock.

Ask Harmony Be Required To Remove Rails

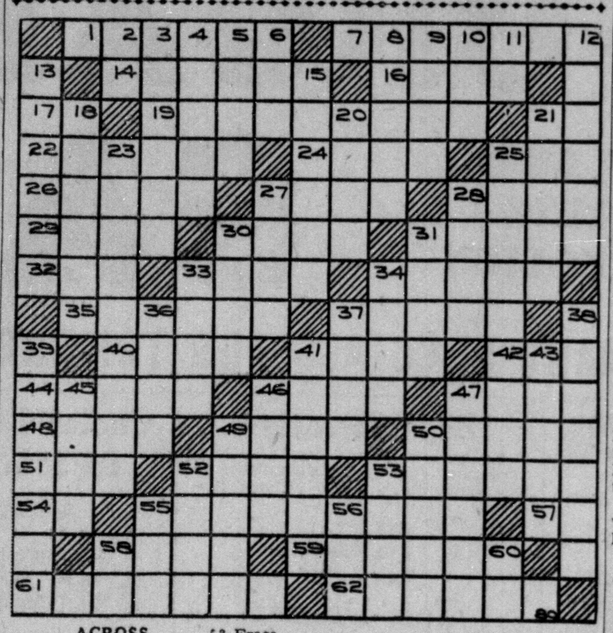

BUTLER, Sept. 2.—Butler city council instructed Solicitor John H. Wilson today to ask the Federal court of Pittsburgh to direct Maurice Scharff, receiver for the short line and the Harmony line, both of which have discontinued service into Butler, to surrender all franchises from the city and to remove rails and ties from the city streets. The Harmony Short Line Bus Transportation Company is operating busses to nearly all the towns reached by the abandoned lines.

HIT BY AUTO, MAN IS SLIGHTLY HURT

Knocked down by an automobile driven by F. L. Henry, Greenwood avenue, on Grant street, near Elm street, Andy Quinn, 42, Mechanic street, was slightly injured Tuesday afternoon, according to a report to police by the driver of the machine.

The driver brought Quinn to the Jameson Memorial hospital where first aid was given. Quinn had a cut on his face.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Once Overs

By J. J. MUNDY

DON'T "RUSH" PEOPLE

At times you wonder why you don't make a better impression upon new acquaintances.

It surprises you that people lose interest in you after you have been associated with them for a short time.

Has it ever occurred to you that you become too well acquainted, too easy and too free after a brief time in the society of those you meet?

Too much presumption at the start of an acquaintanceship is displeasing to many persons.

They don't want to accept you till they know more about you.

They dislike to have it appear that you are a friend till you are more tried and proven.

Usually the too-easy-to-know person is not of much value inspirationally and does not represent much.

You get acquainted too quickly but you don't like to be called shallow and superficial.

But shallow persons don't require much of friendship and they are too approachable by strangers, and how do you differ from them?

Calm down a bit, exercise some dignity in your actions.

Policeman-Lover Kills Young Girl

Young Alabama Girl, Daughter Of Baseball Pitcher, Dies, Slayer Commits Suicide

(International News Service)

GRAND BAY, Ala., Sept. 2.—Edward Stafford, 36-year-old policeman, Tuesday shot and killed Betty Owens, 21, daughter of Tiny Owens, Southern league pitching ace, and then turned his gun on himself with fatal results.

Roy Jenkins of Bonifay, Fla., who, with Polly Owens, were riding with Stafford and his companion, told police that Stafford stopped his car on a highway near here.

"Polly and I left the car and went for a walk. We had not gone 15 feet when we heard three shots Rushing back we found both Stafford and Miss Owens dying. We hailed a passing automobile, which took them to the hospital."

Both Stafford and his companion were dead when they arrived at a hospital in Mobile, 38 miles away.

Seven Bids For Shoals Leasing

Muscle Shoals Commission Gets Seven Proposals In Opening Of Bids Tuesday

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Seven proposals for the leasing of the Muscle Shoals power and nitrate plants were presented to the Muscle Shoals commission Tuesday.

After considering the proposals in closed session the commission declined to make public the names of the bidders or the nature of their offers.

Although Chairman Samuel Hobbs, Selma Alabamajn said the proposals were "encouraging" he indicated additional bids might be sought in the near future.

Some of the offers included the building of Cove Creek dam in Tennessee, Hobbs said.

Charles J. Bramd, secretary of the National Fertilizer Association, protested to the commission again any steps to place the Muscle Shoals project in operation. He said private fertilizer companies now are wrestling with the problem of overproduction.

WEDDING SOLOMNIZED OF INTEREST HERE

On Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, Miss Ethel Thomas of Erie became the bride of Joseph E. Eckels of New Wilmington. The marriage took place at the home of the brides parents, Mr. and Mrs. Burton E. Thomas of New Wilmington, with Rev. K. E. Shindledecker pastor of the Asbury Methodist Episcopal church officiating. The home was beautifully decorated with ferns and garden flowers, and music appropriate to he occasion was played by Miss Dorothy Webster preceding and during the ceremony.

The couple were unattended. The bride was lovely in a gown of white flowered chiffon made ankle length with accessories to match, and she carried an arm bouquet of American Beauty roses and delphinium.

A wedding dinner was served following the reading of the nuptials, covers being laid for thirty guests. Pink and white tones predominated throughout in the appointments. Tall slender tapers in crystal holders guarded the attractive centerpiece on the main table which was a huge bouquet of delphinium and snapdragons. Smaller tables were arranged in the same manner, accommodating the remaining guests.

After a short motor trip, Mr. and Mrs. Eckels will take up their residence in Austin where the former is a member of the High School faculty.

The bride is a graduate of Westminster College and of Erie Business College. The groom received his diploma at Westminster College also.

Guests were present from New Castle included Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Wilson, and son Martin and Billy, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Cummings and daughter Betty, Bobby Phillips and Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Holfelder and son John.

Ladies of G. A. R.

The regular meeting of the Ladies of the G. A. R. was held Tuesday afternoon in the city building and in the absence of the president, the meeting was in charge of Mrs. F. F. Mayers.

Routine business was tranascted after which plans were made for a "Jiggs" dinner, which will be served in their hall on Tuesday, September 15, at noon. Mrs. Zella George, Mrs. Blanche Boston, Mrs. Margaret Harmond, Mrs. Mary Campbell, Mrs. F. F. Mayers, Mrs. Eakin and Mrs. Oilve Boemish will serve on the committee for this event.

Return to Home

Mr. and Mrs. Milan La Du of Princeton, N. J., have returned to their home there after spending a month visiting in this vicinity. While in New Castle they were the guests of Mrs. La Du's sister, Mrs. Irvine Balph, East Wallace avenue, and at other times they visited with Mr. La Du's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence La Du, Jefferson, O.

AIDE SOCIETY HOLDS FIRST MEETING TODAY

This morning from 9 until 12 o'clock, the Jameson Aide society met at the hospital for their first meeting of September. Members of Cathedral Chapter, No. 440, order of the Eastern Star, have charge of the weekly meetings during this month, and at this session, a good number were present and much work was accomplished.

There will be another gathering on Wednesday morning of the coming week, and the same hours will be observed. A good attendance is expected to turn out on this date also, to assist in this worthy work.

VETS AUXILIARY TO MEET THURSDAY

Arrangements have been completed for the meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Harry L. McBride post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, which will be held in the Legion Home Association building Thursday evening at eight o'clock.

Full activities of the auxiliary will be resumed at this time and a full attendance of the membership is desired by President Potter.

Missionary Society Meets

An interesting meeting of the Young Women's Missionary Society of the Reformed Presbyterian church was held Tuesday at the home of Miss Dorothy Jean Wallace on Leasure avenue, with a large number being present.

The session was duly opened by the president, Miss Edna Jenkins, and devotionals were led by Miss Dorothy Riley. After the transaction of matters of interest to the members a social time was enjoyed. Informal diversions were in vogue and a dainty collation was served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Riley. Pastel tones prevailed in the appointments.

At this meeting plans were completed for their annual autumn fiesta, which will be held on September 8 at the church.

Mrs. Belle Allen of Spruce street will be hostess to the society at their meeting in October.

Farewell Party

A most enjoyable event of Monday evening was the party tendered Mr. and Mrs. Williard Shaffer of the Butler road by members and friends of Section G of the Y. L. B. class of the Third United Presbyterian church.

Mr. and Mrs. Shaffer will move to Princeton soon to make their future home and as a token of remembrance they were showered with a number of lovely gifts.

Late in the evening a most sumptuous repast was served by Mrs. Martha Williams, Mrs. Eva. Baldwin, Mrs. Fannie Weingartner, Mrs. Carrie Heminger and Mrs. Mary Clark.

Summer flowers in gorgeous shades were lavishly used about the house and in the center of the dining table.

Baldwin Bible Class

Members of the Baldwin Bible class of the Highland United Presbyterian church will have their first meeting of the fall, Thursday evening, in the home of Mrs. Daniel Maddocks, Boyles avenue, with Mrs. L. C. Burry, Mrs. Albert Batten, Mrs. Ray Cline and Mrs. J. G. Blim as associate hostesses.

There will be a contest of attendance begin at this meeting and Mrs. Ray Rhodes, program chairman, has planned an evening's entertainment which will be most lively.

The committee asks that those attending bring dishes and silver.

Kelley Reunion

The Kelley families gathered for their annual reunion at Gaston Park on August 29 with a large number being present. Dinner was served at 1 o'clock at tables nicely arranged for the occasion, and following, a program of sports was conducted. Horseshoe pitching, and a baseball game formed entertainment for the men. A short business session was also held, when reports and comments were heard.

A group of relatives who were detained in getting there for the dinner, from Rochester, Beaver Falls and Beaver, motored to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Law of the West Pittsburgh road who are two of the oldest generation living. They honored them informally, and at a selected hour, a delicious menu was served.

There will be another reunion held in 1932, the place and date to be decided later.

Y. L. B. Class Meets

The Y. L. B. class of the Third United Presbyterian church held the regular monthly meeting Tuesday evening in the church with Mrs. Gertrude Book in charge of the devotionals.

Most gratifying reports were given by the various sections and the chairmen of committees.

Mrs. D. C. Brown was in charge of the program and presented Mrs. Helen McNicholas, who pleased with vocal numbers, and Jacqueline Diamond, who gave a number of readings.

Mrs. Carl Hart was the guest of the evening and she gave a most inspiring talk on "Christian Citizenship."

Section B served refreshments at the close of the evening.

October 5 will mark the date of the next meeting, which will be held in the church parlors.

League Has Corn Roast

Thirty members of the Epworth League of the First Methodist church motored to the Fred L. Rentz camp Tuesday evening for a corn roast and upon ariving at the camp they enjoyed a game of mushball, but near the end of the game, the weather man let down a lot of rain so the young folks scampered for the lodge where the balance of the evening was spent.

A fire was built in the large fireplace, and here they roasted the weiners and marshmallows, which were the main part of the refreshments.

Group singing was enjoyed, with Kenneth Myers and Pamella Smith taking turns at the piano.

Trustees Meet.

Earl E. Book, Neshannock avenue, was host to the trustees of the Second U. P. church Tuesday evening and they were out 100 per cent strong to talk over matters of importance to the church and to plan for a spiritual program to be carried out through the fall and winter months.

At the close of the business session a social hour was enjoyed and refreshments were served.

Guests Return Home

Clarence Crill of Cleveland, O., Edgar Cameron of Pittsburgh, Mr. and Mrs. Will McCown and daughter "Billy" of Akron, O., and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn McCown and daughter Betty, of Warren, O., have concluded a visit with Mr. and Mrs. R. B. McCown, Maryland avenue.

Reunion Postponed

The Tindall reunion, which was scheduled for September 5, has been postponed until Saturday, Sept. 12, on account of the death of William Tindall.

The event will be held at Lakewood Beach.

Card Party

There will be a card party held at the home of Mrs. Grace Shook who resides at the corner of Phillips and South Mill street on Thursday evening. Play will begin promptly at 8:45 o'clock.

McKIBBEN for CITY TREASURER

I believe there would be less delinquent TAX CARDS on property owners houses today, if they were given the privilege of paying their taxes consistent with their earnings; also less LIENS filed against same.

The city is not compelled to meet its obligations a year in advance. The Firemen, Policemen, School Teachers and other city employees are paid every two weeks or possibly every month, then why should the TAXPAYER be compelled to pay his TAXES a year in advance.

I advocate a QUARTERLY PAYMENT OF TAXES—same as they pay them in Pittsburgh—because Pittsburgh is a second-class city and New Castle is a third-class city is no reason why our city should not be granted this same privilege.

WING CRUMPLED HITTING TREE

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 2.—Mary Jean Cebek, 18, licensed pilot of Clarksburg, W. Va., today had the crumpled wing of her small monoplane to remind her of the narrow escape from possible serious injury she experienced yesterday afternoon when her plane crashed in a take-off from the Peterlini farm, near the old Summit Inn on Steubenville Pike.

Miss Sebek, accompanied by Howard Bigert, of Mifflin township, also a licensed pilot, had made a successful forced landing on the Peterlini farm when her plane ran out of fuel shortly after her take-off from Bettis Field for Akron, Ohio.

The refueling completed, Miss Cebek had taxied into position and "gunned" her ship into the wind for a swift ascent when strong headwinds caused the plane to swerve and crash into a tree, according to witnesses. The plane was partly dismantled and taken to Bettis Field for repairs. Both persons escaped injury.

Hot Bandit Tip Turns Out Cold

KITTANNING, Pa., Sept. 2—A man with an injured eye who hailed a ride on a gasoline truck into Kittaning threw a scare into farmers in the Goheenville section on the Kittanning-New Bethlehem road, shortly before noon today.

Farmers thought he was a masked bandit.

It was Dempsey Walker of Troy Hill, who put a handkerchief over his eye to protect it from further injury. County Detective Charles J. Best learned in investigating a "hot robbery tip."

Radio Cruisers Prove Effective

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—Acting Commissioner of Police John Alcock reported to Mayor Antom J. Cermak today that 10,085 arrests had been made through radio broadcasts to squad cars from October 1, 1930, to July 3, 1931.

"The increased efficiency of the department more than justifies the expenditure," said the report. Important arrests made by officers called by radio included 43 for murder, 336 for assault with a deadly weapon and 453 for burglary.

Co-operation Needed In Pottery Industry

Modernization Of Business Procedure And Manufacturing Methods Also Needed

(International News Service)

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., Sept. 2.—Modernization of the business procedure and manufacturing methods of the pottery industry through intensive national advertising and the cooperation of technological experts furnished the subject of discussion for pottery manufacturers and their associates here today, following an address by Ross C. Purdy, of Columbus, O., secretary of the American Ceramic Society, before the United States Potters' Association yesterday.

Purdy urged a spirit of cooperation between members of the pottery industry as an aid in completing successfully with the foreign market. He accused manufacturers of having "an inferiority complex concerning their ware" and gave that as the reason why "American pottery is not the vogue in America."

There was no reason, Purdy stated, why American pottery ware could not at least equal the best that is being produced by foreign manufacturers. National advertising, as employed by other industries, was one of the first remedies for the industry, he said.

Plan To Punish Ex-Dictators Of Spanish Regime

General Frederick Berenguer And Four Others Are Arrested And Held For Trials

REPUBLIC MAKES GOOD ON THREAT

Serious Strikes And Riots Occur In Various Parts Of Spain Today

By THOMAS LOAYZA
International News Service Staff Correspondent

MADRID, Sept. 2—The threat of the Spanish Republican government to punish members of the directorate which held power in Spain for more than eight years materialized today.

General Frederick Berenguer, brother of former premier Damaso Berenguer, who succeeded Primo De Rivera as dictator of Spain, and a number of officers in the Berenguer cabinet were arrested and held for trial on charges of complicity in "unconstitutional acts" during the period of the dictatorship.

Many Are Arrested

Three generals and two admirals connected with the cabinet of Primo De Rivera were arrested and imprisoned, and three other generals were expected to be taken into custody.

Others marked for arrest were nine members of the Berenguer cabinet, including General Andio, rear Admiral De Los Reyes, Count Guadalhorce, Count Andes, Count Castedo and Senors Yanguas, Callejo, Aunos and Calvo Socelo.

The arrests, which caused a nation wide sensation, were ordered by a "committee of responsibilities" which was employed by the Cortes to try former King Alfonso, members of the dictatorship cabinets and any "infringers of the country's sovereignty."

Several Fled Country

There were widespread fears that the committee would act as a revolutionary tribunal, meting out harsh punishment to the former dignitaries charged with "offenses against the public." A number of those whose arrest has been ordered fled the country soon after overthrow of the Bourbon dynasty.

Strikes Continue

London, Sept. 2—While the Spanish Republican government was preparing to deal with officers of the dictatorships that ruled Spain for eight years, serious strikes and riots continued today in various sections of the country, it was stated in an exchange telegraph dispatch from Barcelona.

Nightlong rioting occurred at Saraggossa, where the strikers erected barricades in the streets. All telephone lines were out. Many were reported wounded in the fighting.

General strikes were declared at Cartagena and Osuna.

New Rabbi Leads Temple Israel Flock

Rabbi Avery Jonah Grossfield Assumes Pastorate Of Local Congregation Sept. 1

On Tuesday, Sept. 1, Temple Israel, Highland and Moody avenues, welcomed its new spiritual leader, Rabbi Avery Jonah Grossfield.

Rabbi Grossfield, whose home is in New York, is a graduate of the University of Cincinnati, Cincinnati, O., class of 1929, and of the Hebrew Union College, Cincinnati, a seminary for the training of reform rabbis, class of 1931, having completed an eight years' course of study in six years. Rabbi Grossfield was awarded the Daniel P. Hayes memorial scholarship five consecutive years and was also the president of his graduating class.

The first services a which Rabbi Grossfield will officiate will take place Friday evening, Sept. 4, at eight p. m. and Saturday morning, Sept. 5, at 10:30 a. m. The sermon for Friday evening will be based on the verse: "Behold, how good and how beautiful it is for brethren to dwell together in unity!" This service will mark the beginning of the regular Friday evening services for the coming year.

After the service the members of the congregation and their friends will repair to the vestry rooms for a social hour and refreshments, the hosts for the evening being the ladies of the Temple Israel Sisterhood.

All friends of the congregation will be cordially welcomed.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

Farm Clubs Aid Youth In Country

Rural Young People Happier, Healthier—Dr. Myers

By GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.
Head Division Parental Education
Cleveland College, Western Reserve University.

To me come a great many letters from readers on the farm. An occasional farm boy or girl writes me. Having grown up on a farm, having attended and taught a "district" school, I am keenly interested in my farm neighbors.

It was my privilege to serve as instructor on two succeeding winters before the Farmers' Week (Institute) at Ohio State university. Previous lecture engagements last winter forbade my accepting invitations to appear as an instructor at Farmers' Week at three state universities.

In addition to learning how to grow better pigs, corn and cattle, parents on the farm are also growing deeply interested in knowing how to rear healthier, happier children and to cultivate happier family life. I think I never spoke before a finer, more impressive group of parents than those who, at their own expense, assembled for those programs. Never did I find parents who entered more heartily and intelligently into an open discussion of their parent problems.

At the second institute before which I served, my work was chiefly with the 4-H club leaders. I don't know how much these leaders learned from me. Surely I got a great deal from them. It was a great inspiration to hear the many wonderful things being done to develop personality in the teen-age children of the farm.

Some of the best principles of modern education are being put into practice by the 4-H clubs. Girls as well as boys are being motivated by definite group activities which add value and attractiveness to rural life. These youths find in this club wholesome social outlets of a high order affording them all sorts of means for self-expression. Some rural communities there are where adolescent boys and girls are favored by educational opportunities which can well be envied by their city cousins Working with and often through the rural high schools, the 4-H club is bringing to the rural adolescent the advantages for developing intellectual and social personality they long had deserved, but been denied. With more advance in this direction our country youth will acquire a healthy appreciation and patriotism for their home communities and will find less lure in the city lights. Too long the rural boy and girl has heard about the opportunities of the city, and has not been helped to see the advantages all about him in the country.

Through the 4-H club the adolescent finds a good outlet for self-expression. He finds something worth while to do and talk about. Things he has created and achieved become powerful centers of interest. About these things he unawares is likely to grow eloquent.

When the youth so trained become the parents of the next generation there will be many more opportunities for educational, social and personality growth in rural children. many more means for cultivating in the adolescent boy or girl on the farm, self-realization, self-expression, self-development. Blessed are the fine men and women who have as volunteers led these clubs. We need more such leaders.

Reunion Recalls Pupils Of McFarland

Liberty Grange Hall Scene Of Large Gathering Of McFarland School Pupils

The annual reunion of the McFarland school pupils was held Saturday, August 29, at the Liberty Grange Hall on the New Castle-Harlansburg road and over 450 former pupils and friends gathered for this event.

At noon a sumptuous dinner was served and horse-shoe pitching, baseball and other sports filled the morning hours.

Mrs. Mabel Wigle Harlan directed the music for the afternoon program and Miss Grace Eakin presided at the piano. The orchestra was in charge of S. A. Eakin. with Miss Esther Heberling as pianist. The program opened with a selection by the orchestra after which the entire assemblage sang "The School Room"; Miss Isabel Hunt gave a reading and a playette. "A slight Misunderstanding", which was highly humorous was presented by Mrs. Mollie Eakin Emery as a deaf old lady and William Stoner as the tramp; more selections by the orchestra followed and the program closed with the singing of "Old Folks At Home" and "Auld Lang Syne."

Officers Elected.

At the close of the program a business session ensued and officers for the coming year were named as follows:—

President—W. A. Eakin.
Secretary—Grace Eakin.
Assistant—Robert Stoner.
Treasurer—Robert Stoner.
Reception Committee—William Stoner, Mrs. C. N. Emery.
Table committee—Mrs. W. E. McClelland, Mrs. William Weigle, Mrs. Charles Brown, Mrs. Jasper Drake.
Transportation—Samuel Hunt.
Music—Grace Eakin, S. A. Eakin.
Sports—Clarence Allison, Lance Dean.
Literary—Clarence Boyles, Henry Emery, Clair Brown, U. S. Dean.
Parking—W. E. McClelland, Elmer Stoner, Henry Emery.
Finance—William Weigle.

After the election of officers, Clarence Allison, in charge of the sports awarded a prize to Mrs. Hannah Waddington of New Brighton as the oldest woman pupil present; she being 87 years of age, and to Theodore Hunt of Warren, Ohio, as the oldest man pupil, he being 78.

The sports program closed the activities for the day.

Power's Wife Was Mail-Order Bride

More Endearing Letters Written By "Bluebeard Lover" Seized By Officials

(International News Service)

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Sept. 2.—The wife of Harry Frederick Powers, like the two women who were lured to gruesome deaths in his Quiet Dell slaughter house, was just a mail order bride.

This was revealed Tuesday by endearing letters which Louella Strothers wrote while awaiting the marriage proposal leading to her union with Powers in 1927.

The letters, dripping with saccharine phrases, were seized by Sheriff William B. Grimm during another search of the self-confessed slayer's personal effects in his Broad Oak home.

LEESBURG

The meeting of the Community Club which was to have been held Tuesday has been postponed for one week.

Mrs. C. L. Evans and son of Columbus, Ohio, were week end guests of Rev. and Mrs. Lloyd.

Miss Huey of Jackson Center was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Donald Rice, over the week end.

MY NEW YORK

BY JAMES ASWELL

AT SEA—The surface of the sea is an undulant platinum sheet and and the sun makes the oakum ooze along the top deck seams; this is the hottest crossing for this time of year, the captain says, in fifteen summers.

Thornton Wilder sat on the edge of the deck tennis court all morning reading Tauchnitz novels—dipping first into one and then into another. These paper-backed, cheaply printed editions of popular American and English authors may not be brought into the United States and evidently Wilder wanted to scan the unread ones out of a bale he brought aboard before giving them all to the room steward.

In the rather haphazard ship's library there is, by the way, only one of Wilder's books—"The Woman of Andros". It has remained undrawn throughout the voyage. Perhaps the passengers feel there is no use in reading the book when they can gaze on the author himself. Wilder is a spry, quickeyed little man with a vague Oxonian accent (which he may have communicated, in part, to his friend, Gene Tunney) and an easy, dental smile.

There are bathing suits to be seen in top-deck chairs and many of the girls wear beach pajamas. This balmy weather is in sharp contrast to the first rough night on the Channel, when it rained viciously and passengers had to hook their toes into the bedsprings to keep from rolling onto the floor.

* * *

THE VACANT CHAIRS

Two hundred odd Gold Star mothers and war widows give a solemn note to the crossing. Whenever the sea kicks up a bit vacancies begin to appear in the starboard deck chairs; some of them have had an unpleasant time of it. But, on the other hand, some of the whitest-haired ladies have sung "Over There" and "Mademoiselle from Armentiers" lustily while frail youngsters were beating hasty retreat from shuffle-board games.

Every berth aboard is taken. In our cabin are two Mormon missionaries in their twenties. One of them has been conducting, throughout the past summer, a hygiene exhibit in Dresden—which undertook to show how, by proper diet and exercise, it is possible to avoid most of the maladies which plague us. Seasickness, evidently is in a class by itself, for he has only been able to leave his bunk twice during the voyage and appear on deck.

* * *

TALE OF THE SEA

I worked my way across on this ship nine years ago as a bellhop. The only member of the crew I have been able to find who is still with the craft is the barber. He has signed on trip after trip for nearly ten years.

He relates a curious story regarding the three names which have successively appeared on the bow—"The Lone Star State" (which is hemstitched into towels and blankets yet), "The President Taft" and "The President Harding", its present monicker.

It seems that, about a decade ago, when the ship was called "The President Taft", Taft himself had occasion to go to Europe. His namesake and the Berengaria were sailing on the same day. Taft took the Berengaria to save time. Officials of the snubbed line, wrought up over the matter, changed the name of their ship to "President Harding" in retaliation.

How much truth there is in that I don't know. But it makes a good sea yarn.

* * *

Tomorrow this column will return to Manhattan. The thought fills me with a vast uplift. There are droves of new plays to see, droves of new idiocies to discover and serve up for your edification out of the Circus Town. Re-entering New York after even a short absence I always gape with the old small-town incredulity at the old wonders. Right now I could be sold the Brooklyn bridge if I had any money—which I haven't, after having purchased the Eiffel Tower, a bargain at 2,500 francs, including the date line on the bill.

Mr. Sinclair Lewis must grind his teeth each time his ship noses past Ambrose Light from Europe. For he finds himself in company with a whole passenger list of 100% Americans, whom he loathes. Every incoming liner brings in a solid booking of patriots—particularly if they have been to Paris.

It wouldn't surprise me if Lewis himself were seen to mount the bridge, on such an occasion, wave a small American flag and blow a kiss at the Statue of Liberty. He has been guilty of gestures just as banal and containing less sense.

Asks Council To Aid Celebration

Mercer County Veterans Are Planning Big Armistice Day Celebration

SHARON, Sept. 2.—City Council, in regular session this morning, received a letter from J. D. Gross of Sharpsville, commander of Shenango Valley Post, 1338 Veterans of Foreign Wars, suggesting that the city follow the example of Butler and New Castle in appropriating $500 toward financing the Tri-County Armistice Day celebration, to be held here this year.

According to Commander Gross, Butler appropriated such a sum for the 1929 celebration and New Castle took similar action in 1930.

Ten Posts of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion and United Spanish War Veterans in Mercer County are co-operating in arranging for the 1931 fete, which will attract thousands of veterans, with their bands and drum corps, from Butler, Lawrence and Mercer Counties.

Officers Named For Sunday School On Sciota Street

Monday evening the annual meeting of the teachers and officers of the Sciota street Sunday school was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Schmidt, Shaw street.

The Sunday school is in charge of Miss Christine Butler, welfare worker at the Neighborhood house and the attendance the past year has been most gratifying.

The officers named for the coming year were: Superintendent, Edwin Schmidt; secretary, Joe Boron; assistant secretary, Jennie Boron; treasurer, Jay Allsworth; pianist, Nesta Allsworth, and teachers, Miss Butler, Miss Timblin, Miss McConnell, Miss Nader, Miss Allsworth, Mr. Schmidt and Mrs. Morris.

Miss Lewis, who has been teaching the past summer, is leaving soon for Philadelphia, where she will attend school.

At the close of business the hostess served refreshments.

Maxwell To Speak To Sharon Alumni

Rev. Samuel Maxwell, pastor of the Epworth M. E. church has been chosen to deliver the principal address at the annual banquet of the Sharon High School Alumni, which will be held September 10.

Rev. Maxwell was married to Miss Mary Nichols, former Sharon girl and a member of the class of 1905 of the high school.

HIGH SPEED EXPENSIVE

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa.—High speed operation of automobiles, besides being dangerous, is also wastefully expensive, according to W. W. Matthews, chief of the safety section of the state bureau of motor vehicles. Saving of time by high speed driving, Matthews said, is more than offset by wear and tear on motor and mechanism and excessive waste of fuel.

Correct this sentence: "I was having my first date," said the nice girl, "But the picture was so decent I didn't feel at all embarrassed."

It's hard to tell whether Prohibition made gin endurable or gin made Prohibition endurable.

Census Bureau Gives Figures On Farm Values

Total Acreage Of Farm Land In Pennsylvania Is Over Fifteen Million

According to a bulletin recently issued by the bureau of census, there are 172,419 farms in the state of Pennsylvania having a total acreage of 15,309,485, and a total value including land, buildings and implements and machinery, of $1,357,773,851. These figures are given in detail for each county and each minor civil division within the state. This is the first federal census report to show these figures by minor civil divisions.

Of the total farm acreage 43 per cent, or 6,587,707 acres, was crop land on which crops harvested in 1929; 7 per cent, or 1,079,140 acres was crop land which lay idle or fallow; and 1 per cent, or 146,979 acres was land on which the crops failed to mature or were not harvested for any cause. Pasture land with a total of 4,576,192 acres, representing 29.9 per cent of the total farm acreage of the state, included 1,779,305 acres of plowable land, 1,337,773 acres of woodland, and 1,459,114 acres of other land. In addition to the land cropped and pastured, the total land in farms included 2,025,542 acres of woodland not used for pasture, and 893,925 acres not in forest, pasture or crops, including the land occupied by house yards, barnyards, feed lots, lanes, roads, etc.

The total value of farm land and buildings was $1,203,017,645, of which $673,321,379 represented the value of farm buildings, $351,467,338 the value of the farmers' dwellings. The value of farm implements and machinery, including farmers' automobiles, was $154,756,206.

Copies of this bulletin may be obtained by writing to the Director of Census, Washington, D. C.

The demand for his resignation was made by the local labor party of Seaham Division, Durham, from which he was elected to parliament.

NO. 2 MINE

RETIRING COAL MINERS HONORED

A number of fellow workers and friends gathered at No. 5 mine, of the Sharon Coal and Limestone Company, on Thursday evening to honor eight miners of the company who retired on pension. The men were employed at No. 2 and No. 5 mines.

J. W. Anawalt, of Pittsburgh, President and F. W. Walton, Purchasing Agent of the Union Supply Company, Rev. Hugh Stevenson of Farrell, and F. P. Filer of Mercer, Superintendent of the mines delievered the addresses.

A new suit was presented to each of the men by Alex Nelson, in behalf of the fellow workmen.

Those honored were: Clarence Houston, Scott Jenkins, Ben Hedglin, Joe Snezic, John Smith, Martin Shaffer, Earl Craft, and Robert Marshall.

Rain forced the program to be finished in the Union Supply Store, after a picnic dinner had been served. The evening was spent with music and dancing. A good time was reported by all.

DON'T be FOOLED by Tricky SALES TALK

DON'T be misled by challenges—guarantees—laboratory analyses—price comparisons—claims of 25% savings—made by distributors of special-brand tires.

A recent example of a grossly misleading and extravagant statement by a distributor of special-brand tires is—"Mount one of our tires on one wheel of your car and a tire of any other make on the opposite wheel. If our tire does not give you equal service at a saving up to 25% in price, we will give you a new tire free."

This statement can be made for only one purpose—a desperate effort to gain your confidence and sell you a tire before you have had time to think about the ridiculousness of their challenge, which asks you to buy one of their tires and go to another store and buy a tire—have it mounted on the opposite wheel—then turn yourself into a tire tester!

Firestone don't ask you to run test cars for them—they have twenty-nine test cars of their own, running day and night, on which they test Firestone Tires and other makes, including special-brand tires, and we have the proof of the safety, quality and extra values of Firestone Tires before you buy.

Drive in today—examine sections cut from Firestone Tires and special-brand mail-order tires—see for yourself the two extra plies under the tread which give you extra protection against punctures and blowouts—compare the construction and quality—don't be fooled by misleading advertisements. We will give you safer, more dependable tires at no greater costs.

RUPTURE EXPERTS HERE

New Invention Of Great Merit Gives Comfort And Relief To Thousands Suffering From Rupture

The Collings System Experts, will be at the Leslie Hotel, New Castle, Pa., Thurs., Sept. 3, also at the Penn Butler Hotel, Butler, Pa., Fri. afternoon and evening, Sept. 4, all day and evening, Sat., Sept. 5. Every ruptured person, whether man, woman or child, should arrange to call on one of the above dates and get a free demonstration of a new invention for difficult or aggravated cases of rupture no matter where located.

Thousands of persons who formerly suffered the tortures of old-fashioned steel and spring trusses are now rejoicing in their freedom from the danger and discomfort of rupture. If you who read this notice are interested in getting relieved of rupture troubles, then don't fail to visit the Collings Experts for an absolutely free demonstration and trial of the most remarkable System for rupture that has ever been invented. There is nothing like it anywhere, and hosts of men and women are amazed at the ease with which their ruptures are controlled.

You are given an opportunity to find out how you can get relief from rupture worries by accepting our free trial plan, absolutely without a penny in advance. We want a chance to prove to you that the Collings Self-Treatment System for rupture is a real, genuine means of relief, from gouging, cutting chafing trusses. Remember, it costs you no money to give the Outfit a trial at the Hotel and then if you want it, the cost is only a trifle.

No matter what you have tried or how many times you have failed, you can't afford to miss this opportunity.

It will be well worth any ruptured person's time to see these experts. It is not often that such an opportunity comes and when it does, it is foolish to neglect it. Call at the Leslie Hotel, any time Thurs., Sept. 3. Hours 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m., 7 to 9 evenings, and bring this notice with you.

Victim Of Crazed Miner Succumbs To Pneumonia Attack

George Yurka, 48, Renton, Pa., Dies In New Kensington, Pa., Hospital

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 2.—Pneumonia, following the effects of a fractured skull suffered August 23 when he was struck with an ax by John Kiski, crazed miner, at Renton, today was held responsible for the death of George Yurka, 48, of Renton, the second victim to die as a result of the attack.

Yurka died last night in the Citizens' General Hospital at New Kensington.

Joseph Eushysky, the first to succumb of the three attacked, died last Thursday of a fractured skull. Condition of the third victim, Catherine Zummerling, three, was still regarded as serious.

Kiski, who was said to have been released from a State Asylum at Torrance, Pa., some time ago, was arrested and returned to the institution, according to the coroner's report.

PENNIES PAY VACATIONS

(International News Service)

OQUAWKA, Ill.—Pennies pay for the vacations of the S. N. Lumbeck family. Lumbeck, a grocer, places all the coppers he receives in tobacco cans, reserving them until the summer. Last year the Lumbecks visited four states, paying all expenses out of the "penny fund". This year, with $700 in pennies hoarded, they planned a longer trip.

LOOKING BACK

IN NEW CASTLE

NEW CASTLE A PORT

It's perhaps a little beyond the imagination of the present generation to conceive of the time when there was a steamboat that had New Castle as a port of call, but such was the case way back yonder in the early days. The year 1840 witnessed the launching of a steamboat, which was constructed for Dr. Joseph Pollock. It was put on a run between Pittsburgh and New Castle. The boat was actually constructed by David Frisbie, a ship and steamboat builder from New York City, and was launched at the canal basin in July, 1840. The doctor's son Hiram and his son-in-law, Captain William McMillen, each had an interest in the new venture. It was christened "Isaphena" after the doctor's daughter and was put in command of Captain McMillen. It was soon found, however, that the new vessel was too sharp at the bow and too deep for the waters of the Beaver river. Accordingly a new flat bottomed hull was constructed and the upper works and engine of the steamship transferred to the new hull in October, 1840. It was provided with two peculiar wheels in accordance with the idea of Dr. Pollock. These operated without producing a wake, thus avoiding the washing of the banks, caused by the ordinary steamer. It was very popular and took all the passenger business, until Reed, Parks & Co., who were running a Packet line, constructed two superior boats fitted with sleeping berths and other conveniences. These connected with a line at Beaver and passengers were carried from New Castle to Pittsburgh without delay. The Isaphena was compelled to seek other business and was put on the Monongahela river. It was later enlarged and used in the southern cotton trade on the Mississippi.

ROSE POINT

ROSE POINT CEMETERY.

Almost 100 years ago on a quiet knoll overlooking the Slippery Rock creek the foundation for a church waslaid, and when the building was completed it was dedicated as the Slippery Rock Reformed Presbyterian church. Beside the church a portion of land was set apart for a burying ground. This was known as the Covenanter graveyard and in it a few soldiers of the War of 1812 and 12 or 15 civil war soldiers are buried. Every year these graves are decorated in memory of the men who served their country. Some years ago the old graveyard being almost full additional land adjoining was bought for a new cemetery. At this time the Rose Point Cemetery association was formed, officers elected, and a movement begun to improve the appearance of the old cemetery, the newly purchased land to be laid out in lots. Two years ago new officers were elected—Jas. Ramsey, president; Geo. Johnson, vice-president; O. D. Stickle, treasurer and Mrs. Vance Wilson, secretary. Now one half of the old cemetery is in excellent condition and it is desired that the rest of it be finished this fall. For this purpose the president has called a meeting for work Thursday, Sept. 3. There will be a meeting of the association on this date, officers are to be elected and a matter of importance to come before the association and it is urged that all members possible be present.

HOW FAR INTO THE EARTH IS SOLAR HEAT CONDUCTED?

By Arthur DeV. Carpenter

Seasonal changes of temperature penetrate the earth to a limited degree: By the process of conduction—or from one molecule to another—daily temperature changes penetrate the earth two of three feet. The winter and summer changes penetrate the earth thirty or forty feet or a little more, but it takes six months for conduction to reach that depth, so forty feet down it is coolest in summer and warmest in winter. But in the vicinity of the polar regions the ground freezes solid to great depths. In Spitzbergen there is a mine shaft 1,000 feet deep, and the ground is frozen solid all the way to the bottom.

Coolidge Homestead Is "Mecca" For Tourists

Modest Coolidge Homestead Nestled In Vermont Hills Visited By Thousands

Former President And Wife Go About Daily Work Watched By "Gawking" Public

COOLIDGE HOMESTEAD .. .. By HERBERT CARYL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PLYMOUTH NOTCH, Vt., Sept. 2.—Calvin Coolidge as a private citizen appeared Tuesday to be having as hard a time to enjoy a quiet summer vacation as he did in the Black Hills of South Dakota and on Little's Point, Swampscott, Mass., when he was President of these United States.

The Coolidge homestead, nestling snugly in this once peaceful, short, narrow defile in the foothills of the Green Mountains, has become the mecca for thousands of tourists from all sections of the nation. The famous couple find themselves in competition with the Geyser "old faithful" and the wandering bears in Yellowstone National Park.

Delight For Tourists

That great American summer pastime of travelers, "gawking," is on in full tilt and the nation's former chief executive and his wife are the objects. They try to go about their daily affairs as if they were not being watched at every turn by the private citizens in this "land of the free."

Tall, lanky, sun-tanned, good-natured "Herb" Moore, second cousin to Mr. Coolidge has been authorized by the state's attorney of Vermont to "keep the situation in the notch well in hand." He estimated today that at least 500 automobiles roar up the long pull from Echo Lake or up the other side from Bridgewater every week day and that about 1,000 cars arrive every Sunday. The average is four persons to a car of approximately 16,000 persons every seven days.

The ex-president, attempting to enjoy a summer vacation far from the throng steps out to his rocker on the front porch—and a score of eyes of men, women and children are immediately fastened upon him.

He shows Mrs. Coolidge the improvement on the foundation of the well of the homestead—and cameras begin clicking from every direction.

Sunday Is Big Day

Sunday is the "big day" here. And 3 P. M. is the "zero hour."

The little community church in this village of 29 inhabitants is jammed to the doors. Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge take their place in the Coolidge pew, designated by a flag presented by Revolutionary war descendants.

Only once has a tourist stepped beyond the street to the Coolidge porch. Mr. Coolidge's secretary promptly "shooed away" this woman who sought to shake hands with the former president and his wife.

The ex-president, who came from his home in Northampton, Mass., has had few visitors while here. He has sought seclusion by penetrating the woods on fishing expeditions. He has supervised the repainting of the Homestead where he took the oath of office as President from his father and he has also supervised repairs on the foundation of the barn wall. He has done considerable reading and studying.

PLAINGROVE

A corn roast was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rogers on Saturday evening. Miss Beulah Graham who is a sister of Mrs,. Rodgers was a joint hostess and also entertained a few of her friends. A general good time was reported by the guests who were present. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Alex Robb, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Rodgers and Howard and Harriet of New Castle, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Rodgers and Ruth, Miss Earleen Lininger of Los Angeles, Calif., George McCracken of New Castle, Mont Minor, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Graham, Mr. Clarence Humphrey, of Mercer, Miss Elizabeth Hamilton, of New Castle, Miss Lois and Eva Hamilton, Raymond James and George Graham, Miss Beulah Graham and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rodgers.

Miss Lucille Sankey has concluded a visit at the home of Mrs. C. E. McCune of Volant.

Walter Minor has returned home after spending a week end with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Minor of New Castle.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Stevenson has returned from a trip to Morgantown, W. Va. Miss Ruth Carter who has been visiting at the home of the Stevensons accompanied them home.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Hamilton had for their guests on Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Rodgers and daughter Ruth, Miss Earleen Lininger of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rodgers of Harlansburg, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. McNutty. Mr. Clarence Humphrey of Mercer and Miss Elizabeth Hamilton of New Castle.

A corn roast was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Darcy, on Thursday evening.

Miss Theo Pollock and Miss Margaret Montgomery has returned from a trip to State College.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Pollock and mother, of Mercer, and Miss Marybelle Pollock of Erie were callers at Plaingrove on Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Pollock.

The sixty-sixth reunion of the descendants of Alexander and Mary Armstrong McBride was held Thursday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jay McCune. A large representation was present. The guest of honor was Mary Armstrong Adams, aged ninety-two. During the business meeting, the following officers were elected: Pres. E. A. McBride, Slippery Rock, Vice-Pres., Robert Reed McBride, Warren, Ohio, Sec. and Treasurer, Mrs. Mary McBride Beisel, New Castle.

Miss Helen Patterson has returned to Mount Jackson to resume her school work.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan McClung, and Harvey, has returned from a trip to Central Ohio and Indiana.

Theodore Minor and Robert Nelson have purchased two new school busses to transport pupils this coming year.

Mrs. Decker who lives on the Everett Neal farm had the misfortune to break her arm while cranking the family car.

School is in progress with the following teachers back in harness: Miss Mary Bingham. Miss Mae McFerrin, Miss Battley, Prof. Raney, Claire Smith, Miss Twila Kimes, Claire Brown, who during his vacation joined the married men ranks.

John McClung has returned from Geneva Lake, Wis., where he attended the National Convention of the U. P. Church.

The boys from here that were at Camp at Rosepoint have returned home on Saturday.

The following from here has returned from a trip to Buffalo and also the Toronto Fair, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Moore and Lloyd, Mr. and Mrs. George Seth and Verne, Mr. and Mrs. James Barnes and Gaynells, Mr. and Mrs. John Dight Ralph Montgomery, Mr. and Mrs. Llewelyn Rodgers and Mr. and Mrs. John Sankey and children. Mr. Sankey transported them in his school bus.

The Boozel reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart McConnell on Saturday. Those present from here were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Boozel, Mr. and Mrs. Will Houston and family. Rev. and Mrs. A. I. Dickenson, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Armstrong.

The remains of Ben Rhodabaugh were laid to rest in the Plaingrove Presbyterian Cemetery on Saturday. Mr. Rhodabaugh was a former resident of Plaingrove. His father and mother was laid to rest in the same cemetery within the last six months.

Mr. and Mrs. Given Shaw were in attendance at the Moon reunion held in Grove City.

Miss Gertrude Eppinger and Miss Lennie Martin are teaching near Grove City. They commenced their duties on Monday. Hazel Moore and Miss Margaret Montgomery's schools also commenced on Monday.

Construction Of Grove City Post Office Delayed

Appointment Of Architect Does Not Mean Immediate Start, Cochran Says

GROVE CITY, Pa., Sept. 2.—Announcement that W. G. Eckles, New Castle architect has been named by the postal department as the architect of the new postoffice here does not mean that immediate construction may be looked for, states Congressman T. C. Cochran today.

Until final confirmation of the sale of the Pine street lot on which the building will be erected any building program will be on paper.

This item of the program should be completed very soon, says the representative who has urged on the department the necessity for speeding up this building. The money for the structure has been appropriated it is learned.

ATTEND CAMP

Camp Kanesatake located on Spruce Creek is the location of the camp operated under the direction of the Pennsylvania Sunday School Association.

Arthur Armour, Ellwood Temple and Grant Atwell are three local boys of the Presbyterian church that are enrolled.

EXPECT BIG ENROLLMENT

Figures comparable with those of 1930 will be the attendance totals at Grove City College which opens September 15th for registration of Freshmen and follows on September 16th with registration of upper-classmen.

A Freshman class of 200 was enrolled last year figures show, with a total attendance of 600.

Changes Made In Ballots This Year

No Nicknames Will Be Used And All Ballots Will Be Numbered

MERCER, Pa., Sept. 2.—No nicknames will appear on the official ballot now being printed for the primary of September 15, is the announcement made today at the office of the commissioners.

Under the law all prefixes and suffixes must be eliminated in printing the ballot. Candidates whose popularity is vested in a nickname will be surprised to find themselves officially listed as baptised. Another feature of the ballot that is new is the numbering of all official ballots. The number of the stub must compare with that on the ballot.

PLAN JUDGING CONTEST

Farm Agent Harold Waha announces the cattle judging contest at the Mercer Fair on September 2, at 9 A. M. That at the Stoneboro Fair is held September 7, at the same hour. It is expected that 40 boys and girls will take part in the contest. These judging contests along with that held at Grove City are the tests made for selection of the county judging team.

BIG APPLE CROP

The largest crop of apples ever grown in Mercer county should mean a resultant production of cider is the opinion of the largest mill owner for the making of this beverage in the county, James Gamble of Fredonia.

The fact that sale of apples will be almost impossible due to the depression and the quantity of the crop should boost the cider business, say growers.

The Fredonia mill has a capacity of 1000 gallon a day. It is the only mill in a 20 mile radius and is already doing a business that indicates a new record during the months of September and October.

ELECTION SUPPLIES READY

Ballots and primary supplies are to be delivered here September 8. The commissioners start the following day in the delivery of ballots for the primaries of September 15. There will be 50,000 ballots, official and specimen, delivered on that date. It is expected that 20,000 Republicans alone will vote at this primary.

POLICE SCARE YOUTH TO DEATH

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Sept. 2.—Believed to have suffered from shock when he heard the siren of a police patrol approaching as he was watching a card game, Emery A. Lewis, 17, Johnstown High school football star, dropped dead on the street here today. Lewis, officers said, became frightened at the fear of arrest and ran about 200 yards when he collapsed.

Brenneman's Cow Wins Beauty Test

Takes Many Other Prizes With Cattle At Towanda Exhibition

TOWANDA, Pa. Sept. 2—A Guernsey cow from New Castle, Pa., took first place in the "Beauty Contest" sponsored by the Towanda Chamber of Commerce at the Bradford county fair, last week. The cow is owned by Charles L. Brenneman of New Castle, whose string of show cattle, which he brought here enroute to the Syracuse fair, has been one of the sensations of the week.

The "Beauty Show" was one of the features of the fair's program. There were fifty cows entered in this contest. After the awards in the contest had been made by Prof. E. B. Fitts, of State College before hundreds of farm people who had watched the proceedings with interest, the winners, ten of them, were paraded up the race track in front of the grandstand where they were accorded an ovation which would have made an Atlantic City beauty contest winner green with envy.

Besides winning this special prize, Mr. Brenneman won the following prizes. In Beef Shorthorns, twelve first, six seconds and five thirds. He also had the Grand Champ Female. In the Guernsey class, Mr. Brenneman took twelve first and three seconds. Also the Grand Champion Male and Female.

BED-RIDDEN VET DISCOVERS FIRE

HARRISBURG, Sept. 2. — By means of a hand mirror through which he watches activities on the street outside, Edward J. Anderson, 35, a bed-ridden World war veteran, today discovered a fire in a commercial garage near his home. Firemen summoned by his wife extinguished the blaze before it had done more than $100 damage.

STEUBENVILLE, O., Sept. 2—Charged with running into and damaging a Pennsylvania railroad passenger train at Gould's Station, O., west of here, Frank Sullivan, 22 was arrested today and held under $2,000 bond for the grand jury. Sullivan, it is alleged by railroad detectives, was driving a stolen auto with three girls as passengers, when he crashed the train which blocked a crossing at Goulds. The occupants of the auto escaped injury.

Branch Installed In New Location

East Side Library Headquarters Are Now At 1401 East Washington Street

The East Side branch of the New Castle public library opened today in its new location at 1401 East Washington street, the intersection of Rose avenue, and the business of loaning books to the hundreds of East Side residents has continued without stop.

Miss Alice Sterling, city librarian, announced this morning that the usual hours will be observed at the new location—from 12:30 p. m. to 9:00 p. m. on Wednesdays, and from 9:00 a. m. to 6:00 p. m. on Saturdays.

Service at the branch library has continued during the moving. On Saturday books were loaned from the old location at the corner of East Washington street and Beckford street. The several thousand books were moved and this afternoon the libary opened at the new place.

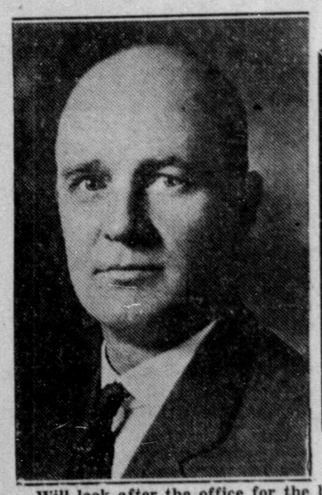

More room, is one of the improvements of the new library headquarters.

MOSQUITO LOTION IS FATAL POTION

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 2.—Drinking mosquito lotion which he thought was whisky was believed today to have caused the death of Paul Escara, 28, found dead in his bed here.

We have not the love of greatness, but the love of the love of greatness. —Carlyle.

Labor Day Plans Well Under Way

Expect Large Crowd At Cascade Park For Labor's Program

FIREWORKS WILL END OBSERVANCE

Plans for the annual celebration of the Trades and Labor assembly on Labor Day, September 7, are progressing rapidly according to A. G. Skunder, general chairman of the day and the indications point to a successful celebration barring rain or other unforeseen eventualities.

A sports program will start at one thirty in the afternoon which is expected to last until about four thirty, the entry lists being large. Many baskets of groceries will be given away. Tickets will be given out during the day by the grounds committee. This work will be in charge of Mrs. Eleanor Skunder and Leona Smyth.

At ten o'clock there will be a fireworks display, and in addition there will be features added to the program between now and Monday. The committees in charge of the day's celebration follow. A. G. Skunder, general chairman; Fred W. Pennington, general secretary; Norman Freeborn, program committee; W. G. Haney, sports committee; Mrs. Eleanor Skunder, Grounds, and John Brogan, prizes.

Dr. E. A. Crooks Returns From West

Pastor Of Reformed Presbyterian Church Covers Over 5000 Miles On Vacation Trip

Dr. E. A. Crooks, pastor of the Reformed Presbyterian church, Oak street, and son John, arrived in the city Tuesday evening after a month's vacation spent in the West.

The trip was made by motor and over 5,000 miles were covered and every bit of the trip was thoroughly enjoyed. When they left New Castle they went west through Ohio, Indiana and Illinois to MacIntosh, S. D., where they visited a while, then they went on into North Dakota and northern Iowa, thence to the Black Hills and through Yellowstone Park, staying there several days enjoying the beauty of the scenery.

The trip then led through southern Wyoming, down through the Platte valley to Blanchard, Ia., the boyhood home of Dr. Crooks, and here he visited a couple of weeks, assisting in the church services of the Reformed Presbyterian church there and preaching on many occasions. While visiting at his old home he also went to Sparta, Ill., where he took part in the centennial celebration of the first church of which he was pastor.

They then drove across Wyoming and at a number of places where they visited Dr. Crooks was a guest speaker in the churches.

Dr. Crooks and John both report a most excellent vacation trip and Dr. Crooks will resume his pulpit duties at the Sunday services.

Swimmers Start Marathon Today

Hundred And Eighty - Seven Begin 15-Mile Race In Lake Ontario

(International News Service)

TORONTO, Ont., Sept. 2.—One hundred eighty-seven swimmers started on the 15-mile marathon race in Lake Ontario today at 11:03 for the world's championship title.

While the water inside the breakwater was 57 degrees, the lake registered 58½. Seven swimmers, after passing the physical examination, refused to participate.

Wolves Meet Tuesday Evening

The regular meeting of the Wolve's Club was held Tuesday evening in the Elk's Club with David D. Valiensi, president, in the chair.

After the transaction of routine business, the speaker of the evening was introduced, Thomas W. Dickey, who gave a splendid talk on "Criminal Laws."

Plans were made for the local members to attend a session of the Butler Wolves, in Butler, on Wednesday, September 9.

Frank "Shorty" Leonard was a special guest.

Auto Dealers To Meet On Friday

Plans have been completed for a meeting of the New Castle Auto Dealers association, which will be held in the Gables, Friday at noon, when a number of important matters will be brought up for discussion, and plans for the fall and winter outlined.

The association has been more or less inactive during the summer, but with the conclusion of the vacation season will meet regularly.

FETE AT ESPYVILLE

Claim "Water Dogs" Infest County Stream

Chauncey Davis, sanitary policeman for the city of New Castle, and who has been summering at Muddy Creek Falls today stated that the Slippery Rock where it enters the Muddy creek is infested with "water dogs". He believes that they too are responsible for the large number of fish which have been killed. He said that his son Harry, armed with a pitchfork, had entered the stream and had already killed 38.

Unemployed Check Makes Progress In Spite Of Downpour

More Jobless Register Today At Labor Headquarters; Coal Field Opened

Today's steady rainfall interfered but a trifle with the community-wide registration of unemployed men and women over 18 years of age, being conducted under the auspices of the local Trades & Labor Assembly and Building Trade council organizations.

The weather likewise had its affect on the first day's operation of the county's Croton coal strip, donated for deserving Lawrence county folk through the generosity of the New Castle Mining & Clay Products company and the Lehigh Portland Cement company. Foreman Harry Trover was on the grounds early this morning directing the assignment of coal claims.

At his office today County Poor Relief Director M. B. Hogue today announced that more than 200 applications for digging, sent him from the Trades & Labor registration office, had been approved. These men received their permits and were entitled to dig today.

A hearing on numerous applications filed on Monday and Tuesday will be conducted by Mr. Hogue in the registration headquarters on Wednesday, September 9. At that time certain applications placed before him will be investigated further. Various angles are to be studied to determine the necessity of granting permits in a group of cases.

Pershing Club To Meet Friday

General Meeting Will Be Preceded By Executive Board Meeting Thursday

Members of the Pershing Club will hold another meeting in the Court House on Friday evening, when plans for getting out the vote and assisting the candidates endorsed by the Club will be made.

A meeting of the Executive Committee of the club will be held on Thursday evening when plans will be discussed for the program to be brought up at Friday evening's meeting.

The general meeting on Friday evening at 8:30, will be preceded by a meeting of the Governing Board, when the action of the Executive Committee will be brought up for approval. It is possible that additional candidates will be endorsed at Thursday evening's meeting of the Central committee.

EX-AGENT IS HOST TO INSURANCE FOLK

Nineteen agents and the personnel of the office staff of the New Castle district headquarters, Metropolitan Life Insurance company, together with their families, journeyed last night to the farm home of Ezekiel Wilson, retired Metropolitan agent, near Slippery Rock, for a corn and weiner roast and marshmallow toast.

Mr. Wilson extended the office group an invitation last week. He provided the corn for the enjoyable outing.

Dr. O. E. Williams Delivers Sermon On Modern Christians

Evangelist Oliver E. Williams, PH. D., D. D. speaking in the big tent at Greenwood M. E. Church last night declared that Christianity as it is taught and practiced today is not Christian. His text was taken from Acts 11:26, "The disciples were called Christians first in Antioch."

"There is an apparent lack of agreement among church people as to what constitutes one a Christian," said Dr. Williams. Some say a Christian is one who accepts the ethical teaching of Christ and modifies his behavior to conform therewith. While others think a Christian is one who adopts the orthodox creed and holds membership in church. Others, still think that baptism, or confirmation makes one a Christian.

A New Testament Christian is one who has been "born again." Christianity begins in the new birth. Again, a New Testament Christian is a "new creation "Old things have passed away and all things have become new." Christianity means a new humanity. This new humanity will serve the true living God, and Him only will they serve.

Mrs. Angeline M. Williams and Prof. J. R. MacMurray had charge of the great musical program, with Maring Swart and Miss Helen Hill at the piano. The music is always a big feature of the Williams revivals and a half hour program presented at the beginning of the service.

Vets Of 332nd To Meet On Saturday

Old Volant School To Hold Reunion

Bunny And Potter Run School Pupils Will Gather On Monday

Plans are being completed this week for the reunion of former pupils of the Bunny and Potter Run schools, near Volant, which will be held on Labor Day at the school site.

The old school which was organized almost 75 years ago, was first known as the Bunny school. This structure was destroyed by fire, and the new school was erected at what was known as the Potter Run district, and hence took the latter name.

Many prominent New Castle and Lawrence county people attended the two old schools, and are making plans to attend the reunion on Labor Day.

Alleged Altoona Slayer Is Held

Newark, N. J., Police Pick Up Wealthy Cafe Owner, Wanted For Murder

(International News Service)

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 2—Charles Faciano, a wealthy cafe owner, of Altoona, Pa., was arrested here today and held for police of the Pennsylvania City who declared they held a warrant charging Faciano with murder.

Faciano according to police, is charged with the murder of his brother Joseph, 37, and with wounding his wife Angelino.

Newark police said that Faciano admitted the killing and said he would plead the "unwritten law" and contend his brother had alienated the affections of his wife."

Faciano, who is known as "Charlie Fashion" because of his flair for fastidious attire, was arrested early today from a description furnished Newark police. Faciano said he knew he was being sought because he had tuned in a portable radio set on his automobile and heard authorities broadcast a description of him. He will be returned to Pennsylvania as soon as extradition formalities are completed.

Miss Streeter Is Back At Y. W. C. A.

POLICE PROBE KIDNAP REPORT

Claim Car Of Ellwood City Man Was Used To Abduct Young Girl

MCKEESPORT, Sept. 2—Police were investigating today the report of a supposed kidnapping of a young girl in Thirty Fifth avenue near Walnut street last night.

A watchman at the Columbia Radiator company told police he saw the girl get off a street car at 11 p. m. and walk up Thirty-Fifth avenue about 100 yards when an automobile swerved into the curb.

A man opened the door, seized the girl who fought him as he pulled her into the machine and drove away at a fast clip, police were told. Police are checking on an Ellwood City man to whom the license plate number, furnished by the watchman, was issued.

No report has been made to the police of a girl residing in that vicinity being missing.

Kiwanis Hears Talk About Labor Day

Rev. J. A. King Delivers Interesting Address On Labor Day At Meeting

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 2.—A fine representation of the Kiwanis club was present last night in the Trinity Lutheran church to hear Rev. J. A. King deliver an interesting address on "Labor and Labor Day."

Rev. King's idea of a prosperous nation is one that can take care of its laborers. A laborer is a good spender and if he is rich—consequently he will spend more. Therefore the country will be rich accordingly.

The majority of employers today were once poor laborers, like Mr. Eastman, the famous kodak man, who was employed in a small shop a generation ago and now he is one of the greatest employers of the country.

His solution for the betterment of labor conditions in this country is to have a greater degree of interest and cooperation between capital and labor in the different classes of people.

The speaker's closing thought was: Would it be possible to have the idle bricklayer, plumber, carpenter and painter cooperate with the supply dealers to build homes now that will be available later when better times come again. In time the property will be disposed of and their profit realized.

There were 10 members present and two special guests who were Mrs. Earl McBride and Mrs. Nellie Hazen. Miss Tess Miller who has been ill for a period was also present on the occasion.

After a delicious dinner the remainder of the evening was enjoyed at cards. Mrs. George Kay and Miss Gladys Anderson were the winners of the club awards at the conclusion of the games. Each of the guests received favors.

The club will meet again in two weeks as guests of Miss Agnes Weiskopf at her home in Ewing Park.

Foreign Mission Society Meets

Election Of Officers Takes Place During Meeting—Business Discussed

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 2.—The Women's Foreign Missionary society of the M. E. church held its regular meeting last night at the home of Mrs. Ed Spencer on Haig street. Due to the absence of the president Mrs. Ray Smith, who is ill, Mrs. Spencer took charge of the meeting.

The election of officers was held at the opening of the business meeting with the old officers being re-elected again. Mrs. Smith was re-elected president, Mrs. Spencer vice-president, Mrs. James McKim secretary and Mrs. George Roys treasurer. Also at this meeting a large number of gifts was brought for the missionary box which will be sent to Korea next week to the conference's missionary, Miss Miller.

A delicious luncheon served by the hostess later in the evening concluded the events of the meeting. She was assisted in serving by her daughter, Miss Evelyn Spencer.

Who Dealt Club Members Meet

All the club members were present and four special guests who were Miss Clara Ritchey, Mrs. Emily Pitzer, Miss Janet Lytle, and Miss Elizabeth McCracken.

Lovely summer flowers adorned conspicuous places of the rooms and exceedingly brightened the occasion

Those present thoroughly enjoyed the evening around the three tables of bridge at play, at the conclusion of which Miss Dollie Lee Huey and Mrs. Paul Winters were the winners of the club awards. Miss Clara Ritchey was presented the guest favor.

At an appointed hour a delectable menu was served by the hostess assisted by Miss Charlotte Chambers.

Mrs. Perry Uber invited the club to meet at her home in Knox Plan in two weeks for their next regular meeting.

Hole-In-One Is Made By Caddy

Frank Patsy Accomplishes Rare Feat On No. 7 Hole At Ellwood Country Club

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 2.—Frank Patsy, a 15-year-old caddy at the Ellwood City Country club, astounded several fellow caddies and others when he made a hole-in-one on No. 7 hole. Frank made the drive of 130 yards with a mashie.

An interesting matter on this is that Frank is not a very accomplished golfer compared with his caddy mates and is not on the caddy team. His score for 18 holes was 104. This is the first hole in one of the season and was witnessed by eight others.

Further Plans Made For Anniversary

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 2.—Several speakers on the program for the 45th anniversary of the P. H. C. were announced at a meeting last night in the Schweiger Hall. Samuel H. Hadley, the supreme president will be one of the speakers as will State Deputy, M. M. Henlein. Others will be announced later.

In school, at the University of Missouri, Miss Ellen Jane Froman of Columbia, Mo., won fame for her beauty, now she steps up to the microphone, after signing a three-year contract to go on the air as a singer, under the direction of Paul Whiteman.

Commercial Dept. Of School Crowded

Plan To Hold Typing Classes At Noon Hour For Non-Residents

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 2.—Students in the Lincoln High school seem to be more interested in business than in science work as revealed by schedule cards. The commercial department of the school cannot accommodate all who have signed up for the course. The bookkeeping and short hand rooms are filled to capacity and as for typing and band—it will have to be held in the noon hour or not all.

In the former every period of the day, the classes are filled. So it was suggested that all non-resident students who eat their lunches in school take their period of typing at the noon hour. No extra work will be given to the teacher in charge who will be dismissed for lunch one hour earlier.

All schools will run on full time for the remainder of the week, as most of the school equipment is handed out and serious work will begin immediately.

100 Increase In School Enrollment

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 2.—Upon computing figures for the total enrollment on the first day of school Tuesday, it was found that there was an increase of 100 over last year. The total enrollment is 3829. Ewing Park has an enrollment of 447, Circle school 256, Hartman 811, West End 277, Central 481, North Side 532, and Lincoln 1331.

RETURNS HOME

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 2.—Mrs. B. J. Bell, formerly of this city, returned to her home in Hornell, N. Y., at noon yesterday after a short visit with her mother, Mrs. A. F. N. Thomas of Glenn avenue.

Whoopee!

Mrs. W. G. Rabe, of Great Neck, L. I., is pictured in the snappy wild west costume in which she appeared at the society circus ball held in the Bath Club at Sands Point, L. I., recently. Can you imagine riding the western plains and "punching" cattle in this outfit?

First Scrimmage On Saturday Morn

Squad Is Now Complete; Large Throng Out For Uniforms Tuesday Afternoon

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 2.—Saturday morning will conclude two weeks of faithful practice for the greater part of the Ellwood High football squad—and it will end in a hard scrimmage session.

About 20 more grid aspirants were handed out uniforms Tuesday afternoon after the school session. This group was selected from a large gathering at the gym. The squad of 60 is now complete, which is all the school can accomodate this year. A large number of uniforms have been sent to a Massachusetts firm to be repaired and have not returned as yet.

Henceforth the coaching staff consisting of Head Coach Robert Ingle, and assistant coaches, Todd Lloyd and Howard Gills will conduct the practice sessions on Lincoln field.

The Ellwood squad appears to be fired with determination this year, upon watching their workouts. All of the available men of last year's varsity, six in number and the second and third teams have been reporting daily for the training periods. They have been going about their work with a great zeal. Yesterday afternoon one of the boys tore a leg off the dummy during a tackling session. The fundamentals of football are being stressed at this time.

On last Monday evening Coach Ingle conducted a skull drill in the Lincoln high school. The boys received the drawings of various plays and formations. Each was taught what to do in his position on the team. Possibly another skull drill will be held Friday evening. Practice sessions will be held throughout the entire week.

2600 Increase In Circulation Than Year Ago August, Revealed At Meeting Thursday

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 2.—An interesting report was given to the Library board at its regular meeting last night in the library rooms. It was reported that there was a 2600 increase in the circulation for the month of August over that last year. The total circulation was 7,748 volumes. The highest single circulation for one day was 548. The daily average is 298.

Also routine matters were taken care of and a budget for the year was adopted.

Bible Class Holds Interesting Meeting

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 2.— The Loyal Women's Bible Class of the First Christian church held an interesting meeting last night at the home of Mrs. W. E. Porter on Fourth street. Mrs. William Walter of Parkersburg, W. Va., and Miss Virginia Johnston were special guests on the occasion. There were 24 members of the class present.

The feature of the day was a talk by Miss Johnston on her trip to Europe and on the Passion Play while she was there. Lunch was served later.

Believe Curtis Will Enter Race For Senate Post

Friends Assert Curtis Not To Be Candidate For Vice President

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2—After some weeks of hesitation and indecision, friends of Vice President Charles Curtis now understand that he is inclined to run for the Senate from his native Kansas next year, leaving it up to President Hoover to find a new running mate on the National ticket.

He may change his mind once or several times before the final irrevocable decision must be made but confidantes with whom he has discussed the situation reported today his present inclination is strongly in favor of abandoning the national political field.

For publication the vice president is not saying anything about his future political plans. He dismisses questions with the answer that it is yet too early to make any announcement. He has, however, along with a considerable number of other prominent Republicans, viewed with growing apprehension the party outlook for next year.

He has been assured that he would have little to fear in standing for the senate again from Kansas; that irrespective of Kansas resentment over "two-big wheat", which might express itself vigorously against the national ticket, his own personal popularity and long service in the state would carry him through.

CONSIDER 30 BIDS FOR PYMATUNING DAM

Koskie Construction Co., Ashtabula, O., $715,150.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 2.—Bids from 30 construction companies, widely scattered in several states, were opened Tuesday afternoon for the Pymatuning dam in the Shenango valley under the direction of the water and power resources board.

Opening of the bids took place under the direction of Charles E. Ryder, chief clerk of the board.

Requiring unit bids for construction of the dam, the estimates received carried lengthy details of figures, all of which must be tabulated before the low bidder can be announced.

Three-Day Shifts On Highway Work Urged By Lewis

Believes Unemployment Could Be Relieved By Rotating Men

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Sept. 2.—Field engineers of the Department of Highways were directed today by S. S. Lewis, secretary of highways, to resort to three day shifts, if necessary, to relieve unemployment.

At the present time approximately 20,000 men are employed, an increase of 8,000 over the normal road construction payroll.

By working two shifts, each for three days at eight hours, Lewis believes acute cases of need can be handled.

Shenango Pottery Team Battles Universal Sanitary

SERIES OPENER TO BE PLAYED TONIGHT

Fans On Edge For County League Title Opener At Centennial Field At 6:00 O'clock

TEAMS SET FOR CRUCIAL SERIES

New Castle's Little World series starts tonight. At 6:00 o'clock at Centennial field the Universal Sanitary baseball nine, winner of the first half of the Lawrence County league will oppose the Shenango Pottery aggregation in the first of a five game series for the baseball title of this city.

Teams Are Prepared

The Shenango and Universal teams are prepared for this crucial series. Fans will see an array of stars tonight. The Universals posses a list of well known local stars while Shenango team has its share of prominent artists who got their baseball knowledge in the different sandlots in the city.

Mike Diffley, young and promising will be seen behind the plate for the Universal Sanitary team. This lad who is a student at the University of Michigan has made an enviable record. During the spring Diffley plays with the U. of Michigan. During his summer months he generally joins a local outfit. Fans will see one of the best catchers in this district when they view this Seventh Warder behind the plate.

Clem General, manager of the Universal team stated that Wylie Shiek will probably be called on to hurl the opening contest of the series. Shiek has compiled a good record in the county league. It was his work that enabled the Universals to cop the first half race. If does not get the call General will ely call on Valley.

Other notables on the Universal team include Bub Jones, who has seen action with some of the best aggregations in this part of the district. Clem General former O. and P. leaguer who made a fine record while with the New Castle team is also a member of the Universals. Houston, McConahy, Sumner and Hood are others who compose the Universal team. According to dope the Universal team is optimistic of winning the initial contest.

The Shenango team on the other hand has a group of young as well as old heads who made a Frank Merriwell finish to cop the final half race. Paul McCullough a local youth hurled formerly with the Washington club of the American Association and only recently pitched with the Minneapolis Mudhens. It is just through good fortune that fans have an opportunity to see McCullough in action.

McCullough is the hurler who turned down the Scarazzos for the league title last Saturday. Carm Sacco manager of the Shenango team stated that he may call on McCullough to hurl against the Universals. Smolnik is the only hurler in the league to have yet to suffer a defeat. He has won something like 12 contests and has not lost any yet.

He may hurl Sank McCullough who also has seen big time baseball with some of the best clubs in the country will be occupying third base. Fruitt, a youngster who covers short stop for the Shenango, is a lad who will be watched with interest throughout the series. He has proven a sensational in the league this season and it wouldn't surprise the writer if this lad gets in bigger company next season. He plays like a big leaguer.

Charley Scaglione will be behind the plate. He has aided a lot in bringing the Shenango team to the second half championship. Russo, J. Soho, W. Soho, Maslyk, Glasser and Rech are others who compose the Shenango team.

With ideal weather one of the biggest crowds at Centennial field this season is expected to watch this encounter. Four umpires will officiate the tilt. "Junk" Jones will be calling the balls and strikes, Diana will be on first, Costella on second and Hudson at third. The "ump" will call play at 6:00 o'clock.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Idications are that no more boxing gloves will fly at the Castle Bowl until the summer of 1932, according to Ed. Fritz who stated that under present conditions persons behind the bowl enterprise do not feel like preparing the bowl for winter boxing. "We can close and resume next summer. By so doing we will save money" Fritz remarked.

Jimmy Dime flashed a real game kid Monday night when he sent Billy Joyce against Johnny Jennings, the southpaw. Joyce stood up under punishment and gave Dime cause for joy. Billy is young and may come right along. The southpaw, it is true, was back in the ring for the first time in two years. Give Jennings a few more fights and he will be back in his old-time form.

Johnny Banko, junior lightweight of West Pittsburg, is a sweet puncher and he will knock out any opponent he hits on the chin. That is ou prediction. He is young, not yet polished sufficiently to meet classy battlers but if Bob Latera continues to nurse him he may some day find that the firm of Latera & Banko have reached the money.

Latera is not making the mistake many others have made. He isn't in a hurry to grab off a big chunk of "Jack" with Banko as the sacrifice. Bob isn't looking for suckers and he isn't figuring on Banko fighting in Madison Square Garden in a few months. He is content to give lots of attention to Bob and not rush him too fast. There's something in such a plan.

Jackie McGann, Pittsburgh flyweight, in some ways reminds one of Patsy Brannigan. Like Brannigan, Jackie lets 'em go from all angles and he likes to fight. He has only fought four or five times since he left the amateur ranks and according to our humble opinion he deserved a shade on Jackie Powers, and the Youngstown battler has been fighting for years.

Joe Sekyra of Dayton, O., outpointed Charlie Retzlaff last night in 10 rounds at New York. Retzlaff outweighted Sekyra 20 pounds. It was the first setback for Retzlaff. The fact that Sekyra beat Retzlaff goes to show what kind of boxers the fans here have seen. Sekyra beat Emmett Rocco here.

Lewis Lacey and his Hurlingham mates from the Argentine will start the United States open polo championships at Meadowbrook, L. I., September 9, riding against Earle Hopping's Sands Point four. Three days later Manuel Andrada will lead other Argentine invaders, Santa Paula team against Roslyn.

Carl Kaufman, defending champion, won the medal honors in the 36 hole qualifying round of the city golf championship tourney which got under way at the Schenley municipal links, Pittsburgh, Tuesday. He paced a record breaking field with rounds of 68-67 for 135.

Lou Gehrig went on another hitting rampage yesterday as the Yankees turned back the Boston Red Sox. He pounded out his thirty ninth home run in the opening contest and then added his fortieth in the nightcap to go three up on Babe Ruth.

Highland-Civics Arrange Battle

Thursday night at the Scotland Lane field the West Side Civics will play the North Highland Merchants. Each team has won one game apiece. The Civics are the only independent team in the city that holds a victory over the Highland team of the Lawrence County league.

The game will start at 6:30 o'clock. A good crowd is expected.

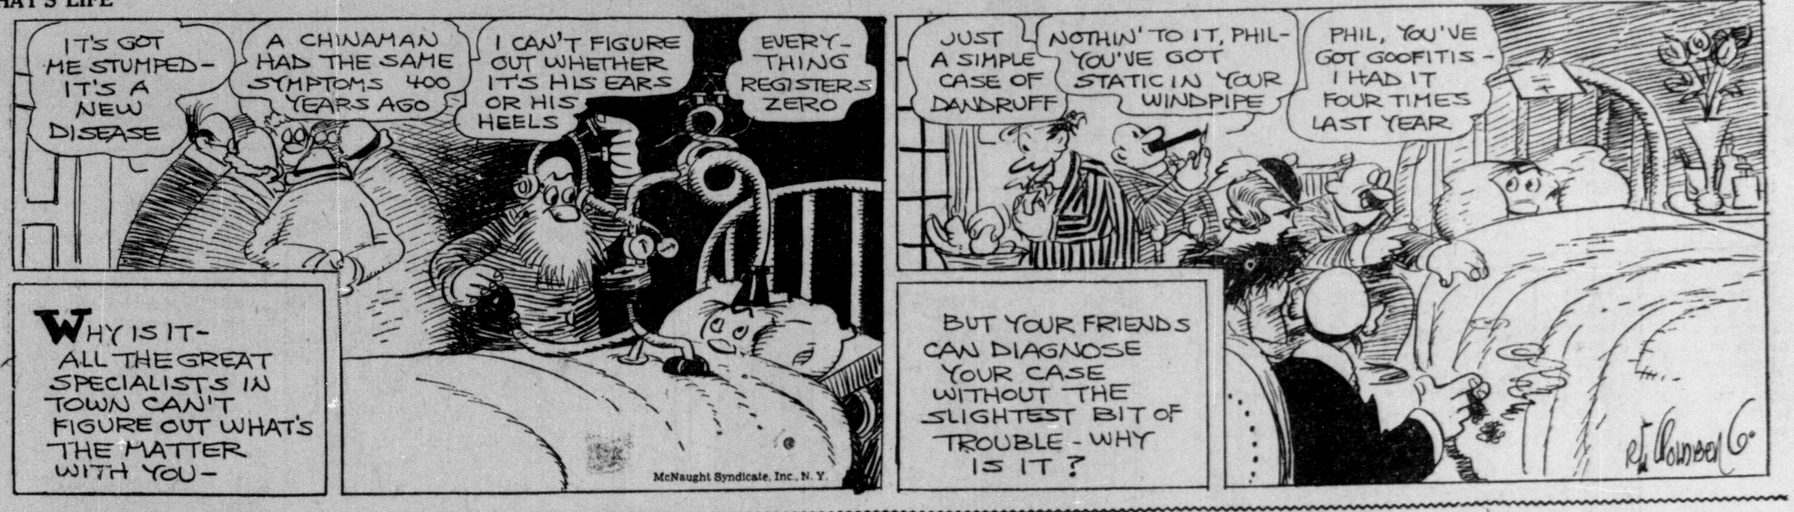

Mushball Notes

The Atlantic A. C. beat the Drake A. C. 11 to 4 in a mushball game at Taggart Field last night. J. Uram pitched for the winners and allowed but eight hits. Kolcz and Nickie Uram featured with home runs. Lewellyn on the hill for the Drake A. C. was found for thirteen hits and fanned eight men.

Sekyra Wins Over Charley Retzlaff In Garden Battle

Rapid March Of North Dakota Plasterer Toward Heavyweight Honors Halted

DAYTON VETERAN LOOKS IMPRESSIVE

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—The rapid march of Charley Retzlaff, the knockout king of the Northwest, toward the heavyweight championship came to an abrupt halt today.

The lanky North Dakota farmer boy unexpectedly stubbed his toe over Joe Sekyra, veteran trial horse from Dayton, O., in a 10-round bout at the Queensboro stadium last night. Sekyra practically closed both of the farmer lad's eyes in the first four rounds and then speared his way to a close decision despite a strong and game finish by Retzlaff.

First Defeat

The writer's score card gave six rounds to Sekyra and four to Retzlaff. Several ringside observers thought Retzlaff won the fight, despite the fact that his face was smeared with blood for eight of the 10 rounds. He forced the fighting all the way and finished strong after being toppled to the canvas just as the bell rang at the end of the seventh round.

It was the first defeat in the "ripper's" spectacular career. Charles had won 31 out of his 35 starts by knockouts, ripping the features of his opponents to shreds with his slashing right hand punches.

Sekyra's experience and superior boxing ability enabled him to evade Retzlaff's wild rushes in the first round. Although the blond Daytonian opened a cut over Retzlaff's left eye in the second, Charles earned a shade by forcing the going. He stepped on the gas in the third round, driving Sekyra to a corner and punching his head off with vicious overhand blows.

Eye Is Cut

Joe put Charles on the skids in the fourth heat when he raised a huge lump under Retzlaff's right eye with a left hook. In a minute's time the lump was swollen almost to the size of an apple. His port optic also was in bad shape.

The fifth was a waltz with Sekyra dancing around his helpless foe, tying him up in the clinches or peppering him leisurely. Charles rallied gamely to capture the sixth, but was in a bad way in the seventh when Sekyra dropped him with a leaping right behind the ear. Ratzlaff got a break when the bell rang at the count of four.

Sekyra held, stalled and speared his way through the eighth and ninth heats, but lost the tenth when Retzlaff, with the flow of blood from his cuts stopped, staggered him with two rights to the chin. If the fight had lasted two more rounds Charles would have reversed the decision.

Playoff Game Is Carded Tonight

Weather permitting the Pierce & Barton and News Slugs will battle in a Class B mushball league playoff game tonight at Lehigh Field. The game will start at 6:30 o'clock. Price and Brooks have been assigned to handle the game in umpiring capacities.

The winner of this game will play the Marcellas for the second-half championship in Class B of the New Castle mushball league.

The Lockleys and Cancos of the American Can company will battle at the Can Works field at 6:30 o'clock Thursday night for the championship of the Class A league. The series is the best out of three. This will be the first game.

Finish Of Stroke Decides Slice Or Hook, Says Grove

By ROY GROVE
Central Press Golf Writer

NUMBER 66

The professional golfer can tell where you have hit your ball by watching the finish of your swing.

The finish of the stroke decides whether you have hooked or sliced the shot.

You will notice the professional finishes with relaxation. He has let the club come on through the ball and the weight of the stick carries on around.

To finish the stroke with effort and tension opens the face of the club or closes it at the point of contact.

Never try to hit the ball at the bottom of the swing. This cuts the shot and causes a slice.

Aim for some point out ahead of the ball and hit through that point to get the club on out towards the hole.

By relaxing the right side throws the weight into the ball and puts the pressure on the left side.

Always try hitting against the left side and out.

Do not try to swing around on the ball or force the handle into the play at the bottom of the swing.

Learn to finish with the club just as you would learn to take the club back from the ball.

Hit down and out, never up and out. Do not assist the club in the efforts to get through.

Cut the backswing down until you have the club under control and then start taking a longer swing.

Matches Arranged In "Muny" Tourney

Six Consolation Matches Arranged For Those Defeated In Course Flight

Six consolation matches have so far been arranged at the Municipal golf course for those who have been defeated in the course championship flight. The matches announced by Walter "Hub" Hart and Mose Mancine today are:

Dr. H. A. Frank vs. J. Miller.
F. A. Smith vs. Tommy Jones.
Joe McCann vs. R. R. Davis.
Don McCleary vs. F. Summers.
W. DeArment vs. Art Smith.
Ben Prosser vs. Elmer Whittaker.

The following should get their matches played today if at all possible: J. J. McGovern vs. Dave Leonardson; W. J. Walsh vs. Nick Fiella.

Tucker Nolan, a youth who has been playing golf but two years, recently equalled par on the first nine at the "Muny" course by shooting a brilliant 37. His card: 444-436-444—37. He is one of the favorites in the present course championship tourney.

Famous Trainer Says Dempsey Will Soon Be In Fighting Condition

"Artie" McGovern, Famous Physical Trainer, Thinks Dempsey Can Do It

Babe Ruth Older Than Dempsey And Still Playing Great Game Of Baseball

[EDITOR'S NOTE—There has been a great deal of speculation about the chances of Jack Dempsey, former world's heavyweight champion, to stage a real "come back." International News Service asked Artie McGovern, famous physical trainer, the man who brought "Babe" Ruth back, and who had Dempsey in training at his gymnasium this year, to write his views.]

By ARTIE McGOVERN
Written Exclusively For International News Service

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Jack Dempsey can get himself in first class fighting condition. He will not be the Dempsey of Toledo, to be sure. But he will be in better fighting condition than he was in 1927. It was conceded that Dempsey was in better physical condition in the second Tunney fight than he was in the contest which lost him his title. I firmly believe that Jack Dempsey, scientifically conditioned, can attain seventy per cent of his best fighting condition. The Manassa mauler has just passed his thirty-sixth birthday.

Babe Ruth is thirty-seven and the Bambino is playing the best game of his career, in spite of the fact that the "Babe" was supposed to be all washed up six years ago. They said the Bambino's legs were gone. He was too fat. After two months training in my gymnasium the "Babe" joined his team and the legs that were supposed to be shot carried him through his most successful season, setting a new home run record. He has continued these past six years to be the outstanding athlete in baseball.

In Excellent Condition.

When Dempsey started training under my supervision this year, I found him to be in excellent physical condition. He was much better than was Babe Ruth when he came to me in 1925. Dempsey is still a fighting man at heart. No matter what his age, what would have happened if the long count of Chicago was a short count? Dempsey would then have performed a successful comeback, he would have regained his title.

Dempsey is the finest physical specimen I have ever seen. He has taken good care of himself. He lives moderately, dissipates very little, enjoys smoking cigars and loves good food. He is always playing pranks on his friends, and when not in training he has an abundance of energy. He seems to be utterly tireless. He is here, there, everywhere—the embodiment of pep. Hard work, and more of it, used to be Dempsey's formula for training. Road work, boxing and bag punching were on his program for four or five hours a day. The old methods of training, which might better be called straining, was the chief reason of Dempsey's poor physical condition in his last three fights. Dempsey's energy should have been conserved—not burned up.

Keep Jack in good mental condition, in a good psychological frame of mind; keep him strong by a moderate training regime, keep him in his natural high strung nervous state, "rarin' to go" and his age, legs, or what-have-you, will not save his opponent from being knocked out.

Daily practices will be held starting today. The first game for the Union High team is September 19, when they go to Ellwood City for a battle with the Ellwood City High gridders.

Six Lettermen

Out of 35 men that reported, six of them are lettermen. The remainder of the 1930 team graduated and others left school. Coach Boyd has quite a task in selecting his team this year, but hopes to attain the same success that he achieved last year.

So many youngsters reported this year that they ran out of equipment. However, if any more likely looking candidates appear, it is possible that they will be outfitted.

Union High is biting off a big task in tackling Ellwood City, former W. P. I. A. L. champions, but Boyd thinks that with his six lettermen and several other fine looking prospects that he can whip a team into shape that will give the Ellwoodians a tough engagement.

Reds And Greens Win League Games

The Reds defeated the Whites, 12-9 and the Greens defeated the the Blues 20-8 in the Sacred Heart mushball league on Tuesday. The Reds by virtue of this victory have clinched the second half of the league and will battle it out with the Whites who hold first half. The play off will commence next week. Tonight the Sacred Heart mushball team opposes the strong Trinity church team at Genkinger field Lawrence street.

Wingerd Wins Tennis Singles Crown In New Castle

Defeats McFate In Final Match Tuesday Evening

Holder Of Chautauqua Lake Title Also Annexes Honors In Home Town

RAY MUST WINS JUNIOR TITLE

Lowell H. Wingerd, holder of the singles championship at Chautauqua Lake, New York, runner-up to the champion Arkle in the Northwestern Pennsylvania championship at Oil City recently, was crowned the singles tennis champion of New Castle last night at the New Castle Field Club courts after his defeat of Attorney Joe McFate in straight sets 6-1, 6-2, 6-4. A crowd estimated at close to 500 witnessed the final match in the second annual Sears, Roebuck and Company tournament.

Wingerd immediately following the match was presented with a handsome silver loving cup by the Honorable Mayor William H. Gillespie as the crowd lustily applauded the noble and clean fight that Wingerd waged in winning the toga emblematic of the cream of New Castle tennis players. The new champion was forced to wade through a mighty stiff list of opponents to take the title. His victories over Sowersby and McFate were clean-cut. He showed his superiority. His worthy opponents had nothing but praise for him. He is a true champion and a real sportsman.

Hard Fought Sets

In the first two sets Wingerd had a rather tough time in winning with the majority of the games going to deuce. Wingerd's uncanny placements bothered McFate somewhat. McFate likewise had an uncanny chop game working that scored him many points. Wingerd's terrific smashes finally won for him. The third and final set was the hardest fought of the entire match with McFate at one time holding a 2 to 0 score in games, but it was at this point that Wingerd again opened up and used a series of effective drives over the net that had "no return tickets" attached.

Following the match McFate congratulated Wingerd on his fine playing and clean competition.

Must Defeats Viggiano

Ray Must, Junior champion in the first tourney sponsored by Sears, Roebuck and Company, was again crowned junior champion last night at the Field Club courts when he defeated Frank Viggiano in three straight sets, 6-2, 6-4 and 6-1. By a queer coincidence Viggiano aided Must in winning the Junior doubles championship.

Must's wicked drives and uncanny placements had his opponent worried in every game. Must used an effective service in scoring a number of aces. Viggiano played fine tennis and gave Must a real battle.

Pezzone Midget Champion

Pezzone won the Midget singles championship yesterday at the Field Club courts by defeating Billy Boston, in two straight sets, 6-0, 6-2. Pezzons showed fine form in winning the toga in the Midget division. He waded through a lot of fine players to reach the finals. Boston was the favorite to win, but Pezzone kept pecking away and finally won the verdict.

E. G. Harrison, manager of the Sears, Roebuck and Co., store, who with Tully Caiazza directed the second annual city-wide tourney, wishes to thank the New Castle News, New Castle Field Club, the city of New Castle, Hymie Levine, and Allan Garvin for their fine cooperation in making the tourney one of the best that has ever been held in New Castle.

Seven cups were presented by Mayor Gillespie to the following winners—Wingerd singles champion, Wingerd and McAuley doubles champion: Must, Junior champion Must and Viggiano doubles champs and to Sam Pezzone.

It may also be interesting to know that the newly crowned tennis champion is the son of Rev. C. B. Wingerd, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church here and that the Wingerd family is rated high in tennis circles here and at Chautauqua Lake. Rev. Wingerd himself plays a very fine game of tennis. Joyce Wingerd, a daughter was crowned singles champion of the New Castle girls in a tourney conducted on the Mears courts on Butler avenue. Miss Wingerd defeated Evelyn McMillin 7-5, 6-2 to take the title. She was awarded a fine tennis racket for first prize. It is somewhat unusual for a brother and sister to win championships on the same night, but that is what happened here last night and there was quite some rejoicing in the Wingerd home. Two champions in one family.

Gehrig Smashes Out Two Homers

George Gehrig Slams Homers Numbers 39 and 40 Against Boston Tuesday

YANKEE SLUGGER AHEAD OF RUTH

By COPELAND C. BURG
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Lou Gehrig, the late man Friday, valet and stoogie for George Herman Ruth, revolted today.

In case you hadn't heard, brutal Lou smashed his homers No. 39 and No. 40, yesterday as the Yanks flopped the ruddy hose of Boston, 11 to 3 and 5 to 1. When the second bolt from the blue was unraveled three men happened to be on base, being the third time since Sunday Gehrig executed such a trick. This placed Lou one short of the seasional record for homers in a row with the bases choked, Frank Shulte of the grand old Cubs and Ruth jointly holding that record.

Gehrig Busts Two

And adding insult to injury, Gehrig hit both of his big heaves while Ruth was on base. But the great man—we still mean Ruth—got three singles himself in the first game and is in second place among the hitters with .379. Simmons of the Athletics is first with .385.

Sam Jones, Washington hurler, was clipped for ten hits by the champion A's, but he fanned seven while Washington poked 13 safeties off Rube Walberg, the Senators basketing it, 5 to 1. Cronin got a homer and Myer made three hits in the Senators' attack.

Young Jim Mooney, the rookie pitcher who still has corn silk in his ears, hurled another shutout, winning for the New York Giants over Boston, 4 to 0. He limited the Braves to eight here and there hits, walked two and struck out one. Perfect ball by the Giants helped the youthful busher, who was won four straight, two games being horse-collarings. He has yet to be beaten.

Other clubs were idle.

The Cunningham A. C. topped the St. Andrews mushball team 5 to 1, in a game played last night at Gaston Park Field. Morganti on the mound for the Cunningham team allowed the St. Andrews team but two hits.

On Monday night the Cunningham A. C. defeated the Williams A. C. at the Clifton Flats Field, by a score of 8 to 7.

Mangin-Bell Are In Tennis Finals

Wilmer Allison And John Van Ryn Will Oppose Mangin And Bell For Title

(International News Service)

BROOKLINE, Mass., Sept. 2.—Gregory Mangin and Berkeley Bell, meet Wilmer Allison and John Van Ryn in the final match for the National Double tennis championship here today.

Mangin and Bell, victors over Frank Shields and Sidney B. Wood Jr., of New York, in a semi-final which was the most savagely fought contest of the tournament, rule slight favorites. Their most exciting match went five sets, 6-3, 4-6, 6-4, 3-6, 10-8.

In yesterday's other semi-final Allison and Van Ryn, Wimbledon champions in 1929 and 1930 and runners-up last year, eliminated Clifford Sutter, of New Orleans and Bruce Barnes, Texan, 6-4, 6-4, 6-3.

High Backfield Is Deep Problem

New Castle Gridders Stage Two More Drills Tuesday Morning And Afternoon

Two more light workouts were on the program for the New Castle high school grid candidates at Taggart field Tuesday morning and afternoon. Coach Phil Bridenbaugh this season faces a huge task in building up a strong backfield.

The line is practically built up, as many of the veterans who composed last year's cement wall back again for grid duty. With the departing of Regis McAuley and Dick Thomas in the backfield a big gap was opened. Many gridders who are just beginning their football careers are out this season in the hope of being among the first eleven to represent New Castle in the opening contest on the program on September 18. Coraopolis will be the opponent.

Nick Uram who played quarterback last season part time looms for the berth left vacant by Regis McAuley. At the present Coach Bridenbaugh is not worrying about his lineup. His main worry at present is getting his cohorts in good physical condition for the hard training season and games to follow.

For the remainder of the week the gridders will go through two workouts daily. About Tuesday the candidates will start on one workout a day.

SPYING ON SPORTS

BY WILLIAM RITT

Central Press Sports Editor

Times may be tough in some respects for the baseball business but there's nothing sour about the crop of first-year men who have made good as regulars this season.

The best angle to this uncovering of new talent is that a good many of the second division teams have a fair share of the better ivory. This presages closer pennant races in the near future.

Of all clubs the St. Louis Browns probably have benefited the most with Irving Burns, Russ Crouch, Jim Levey, Larry Bettencourt, Lin Storti and Eddie Grimes.

As usual there are more good young pitchers this year than outfielders, infielders or catchers.

The American league boasts of Charley Fischer, of Washington; Tom Bridges, Detroit; Hank McDonald, Philadelphia; Bob Kline, Boston; Vic Frazier, Chicago; Jim Weaver, New York; Dick Coffman, St. Louis. Cleveland alone made no mound find.

In the National league Paul Derringer of St. Louis looks the best of the first-year boxmen, with Jim Mooney, New York, also highly rated. John Berly is another young Giant tosser. Others are Clyde Day, Brooklyn; Dick Warneke, Chicago; Watt, Phillies, and Allyn Stout, St. Louis.

Outstanding youngsters in the National league outfields include Wes Schulmerich and Bob Worthington, Boston; Estel Crabtree, Cincinnati; Forrest Jensen, Pittsburgh; Pepper Martin, St. Louis; Fred Koster, Philadelphia; Barton, Chicago.

In the infields are such bright new lights as Johnny Vergez, New York, Les Mallon, Philadelphia; Bill Jurges, Chicago Tony Piet and Grosskloss. Pittsburgh.

Ernie Lombardi is just about the best young catcher in the National this year.

Very promising American league baby outfielders include the hard-hitting Joe Vosmik, Cleveland; Hub and Gerry Walker and Jonathan Stone, Detroit; Myril Hoag, New York; Bettencourt and Jenkins, St. Louis; Roger Cramer, Philadelphia.

In the infield St. Louis has the aforementioned Storti, Levey, Burns and Grimes; Luke Appling is starring for Chicago, and that's about all.

Three catchers have sprung into prominence this season. They are Bill Bolton, Washington; Jack Crouch, Chicago, and Joe Palmisano, Philadelphia.

There's no place like your own home. Turn to the Real Estate For Sale column for bargains in good homes.

TIMES like this no one means to be wasteful yet the most flagrant form of wastefulness is to withdraw from use things that can still render service and economy to some one. When you do so you forego the cash you can obtain from them by resale and you deny others of the practice of thrift that arises from making use of things they can buy and utilize without paying the "first hand" price.

Why not sell to eager buyers what you don't or cannot use? There are hundreds of them reading the Want Ads every day for just such chances.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Stock Prices Today Are Moderately Reactionary

By W. S. COUSINS
International News Service Financial Editor

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Stock prices were moderately reactionary in the early half of today's session, with scattered speculative selling influenced by the unfavorable tenor of the weekly trade summaries.

The report of the Iron Age was somewhat pessimistic, holding that hopes for a seasonal recovery in the Steel trade were waning, although Ingot production for the past week remained unchanged at 31 per cent of capacity.

Freight car loadings while showing a modest increase over the preceding week, were far below seasonal expectations, and led to some selling of the carrier shares. New York Central dipped 1½ points to 69½; Pennsylvania was off 1¼ at 38¾; and Baltimore and Ohio was off approximately a point at 45½.

The run of speculative leaders in the industrial group were mostly lower. Allied Chemical fell back 2 points to 110, Case was off 1⅝ at 61⅝; while losses of slightly less than a point were chalked up against U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, American Can, and Westinghouse.

Auburn was a weak spot in the Motor section, sinking 4½ points to 133. General Motors eased off fractionally to 36, but Chrysler ruled firm in edging up ½ point to 22¾.

Oils were steady, with little speculative buying attracted to this group despite the announcement that Crude output in the past week was the lowest in ten years.

Utilities were irregularly lower, with American Telephone sagging about a point to 171½; and Consolidated Gas off ½ at 93½.

Commodities were generally steady with Wheat slightly higher.

The case arose out of a contract for advertising entered into between the two companies and which it was argued was interdependent upon a contract for furnishings. The suit was for $3394.81.

Amateurs Play On Damp Fairway, Two Even First Round

Salt Lake City And Florida Golfers Deadlock At 37 Each For First Nine Holes

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Sports Writer

BEVERLY COUNTRY CLUB, CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—Under fairly good weather conditions, match play began today in the thirty-fifth annual United States amateur golf championship. The atmosphere was dark and muggy and the fairways were heavy from yesterdays rain.

Sixteen matches were held during the forenoon. The contestants teed off in pairs at five minute intervals. The first match to get underway was between Owen Covey, Salt Lake City, and William Duckwall, of Bradenton, Fla. They engaged in a nip and tuck battle and were all square at the turn.

Their cards:

Covey, out	353-544-544—37
Duckwall, out	463-453-444—37

Administration Will Oppose Tax Tinkering

Despite Two Billion Dollar Deficit Shock, Tax Tinkering Is Opposed

Secretary Mellon Opposes Increase In Income Taxes At Present Time

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Despite the shock of a two billion dollar deficit in the treasury—a billion last year and another billion estimated for the current year—the administration is going to oppose any extensive tinkering with the general tax structure at the approaching sessions of congress.

The bond issue of $1,100,000,000 announced Monday by the treasury will carry the government along and permit income and corporation taxes to remain at their present rates for another year.

Oppose Increase.

Administration leaders, among them Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, are agreed that it would be "bad business and bad politics" to increase income taxes in a time of business depression and upon the eve of a national election next year.

The new bond issue comes on top of the issues of last March and June. The March issue was $500,000,000 and the June issue was $800,000,000, making a grand total of $2,400,000,000 which the treasury has issued in the past six months. Both the earlier issues were greatly oversubscribed and confidence is felt at the treasury that the current offering will be snapped up, too, despite the low interest rate of three per cent.

Eventually it is recognized that unless there is a decided pick-up in business, taxes will have to be increased. But the present policy of the administration is to put off that dark day as long as possible—certainly beyond next year's election.

Need New Sources.

The past six months of treasury financing is recognized as a "stop gap" method of avoiding a tax increase. No one considers, least of all Secretary Mellon, that it can be continued indefinitely. Increased revenue must be forthcoming from the present rates, or these rates must be increased. The alternative is to find new and hitherto untapped sources, which is not an easy task.

Secretary Mellon is of the opinion that the whole federal tax structure eventually should be gone over and revised. But he does not favor it at a time like this, when the country is still wallowing in the trough of depression and unemployment, and upon the eve of a national election in which economic issues are bound to play a paramount part.

Will Hear Clamor.

Notwithstanding the administration's policy, which is supported in part by some Democratic leaders, there will be an insistent clamor in the new congress for increasing income taxes in the upper brackets. Progressive Republicans and a considerable number of Democrats feel that inasmuch as the wealthy benefitted most by the successive tax reductions in the years of treasury surpluses, the wealthy should now re-shoulder some of the burden in the days of deficits. It is not believed likely, however, that this clamor will result in any definite action for conservative Democrats as well as Republicans are averse to starting a tax fight just ahead of the campaign.

For some time treasury experts have been conducting a widespread survey of new sources of government revenue. Secretary Mellon has devoted considerable thought to the possibilities of a national gasoline tax. The individual states and in some cases municipalities have enormously increased their revenues by imposition of a gasoline tax. It is regarded as a "painless" tax and simple of administration. Some thought has been given, too, to increasing the cigarette and tobacco taxes, which alone of all the government's revenue have stood up during the depression.

But these studies have been conducted with a view to 1933 rather than 1931. There is scant prospect of congress embarking upon any tax schemes this winter.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

Ralph Campbell is worried. Not that the genial prothonotary is unlike the rest of the human family and hasn't any worries, but as a general rule his countenance is as serene as a June morning. But he's worried just now as to where he is going to put next year's records of the Prothonotary and Clerk of Courts office.

If the question arose in your home the answer would be simple. Put them under the bed, or down the cellar or up in the attic. But you see they don't have any beds in the court house, and the cellar and attic are full. And further, the records are valuable records and mean considerable to the County of Lawrence, which is you and me and the rest of us.

For the last ten years it has been a yearly job to find space for the records of the year before. A pile of them here and a pile there, fill up a corner and crowd another one, and the result is that today the court house is full of old records, but the limit of flexibility seems to have been reached.

It is no criticism of any official to say that proper care has not been given records. Up in the attic and the belfry there are records piled helter skelter, covered with dust and cobwebs, and inviting a nice fresh fire.

Down the cellar you stumble over piles of books as you try to make your way through the catacombs, and here again the fire hazard is bad. But the books had to be put somewhere to get them out of the road and the result is chaos, disorder and danger.

This is no plea for a new court house you understand. It is only a query as to where the records of this year are going to be stored when the year ends. Every available inch of space in the present court house is crowded, dangerously so, and if a fire does break out up there the records concerning you may easily be swept away.

For example, the record of the deed to your home, the record of your payment of the mortgage on your home, the record of your citizenship if you are a naturalized citizen, the record of your marriage license, all of them are important to you surely, and yet it is safe to say that not one of those records are safe from a fire.

Grand juries have been meeting for the past twenty five years and recommending changes and the recommendations have been neatly filed away. And each year the pile of records has been increasing, the storage space has been getting less, and the possibilities of fire have been increasing.

Right now we would say that one of the greatest fire hazards in the entire county is the court house.

And so that is the reason Mr. Campbell is worried. Not about the election certainly, for his election in this county has become more or less of an institution. But now it has become a quadrennial confirmation rather than an election.

Forty seven years ago he went into the Prothonotary's office as a deputy to his father who was then prothonotary. Perhaps he didn't expect to stay but the job has become more or less permanent. Today he has a record that is unique in Pennsylvania. Forty seven years in the same office can be considered nearly a steady job. Of course he hasn't always been head of the office. There were years when he was just the deputy but it has been many years since he was.

The only officer in this part of the country who has anything like his record is a man down in Virginia who started in the court house 61 years ago, but there was a period in between when he was out. Mr. Campbell has never done anything but work in the prothonotary's office. He started as a boy and he's still there.

Legion Paris Pilgrimage Director Highly Commended

In the recent past the Central Press Association distributed a news article entitled "Legion Probes Itself as a Result of Criticism from the Field," in which criticisms were reported of the salaries and expense accounts of the National Commander, the National Adjutant, and other national officials of the American Legion. In the course of the article there was a statement to the effect that John J. Wicker, Jr., of Richmond, Virginia, had been criticized by a Legion committee for extravagant expenditures as National Travel Director of the Legion's Pilgrimage to France in 1927.

At the time the news article was distributed, the Central Press Association was acting in good faith, in the belief that its correspondent was correctly informed. It has subsequently developed, however, that this statement about Mr. Wicker was an unfortunate mistake which did him great injustice.

Upon careful investigation, the Central Press Association has found that Mr. Wicker, who is a highly respected attorney of Richmond, Virginia, was never censured or criticized by any Legion Committee whatever. On the contrary, the facts are that Mr. Wicker's direction and management of the highly successful international pilgrimage of the Legion has been warmly praised in this country and abroad. Furthermore, upon recommendation of the Legion Finance Committee, Mr. Wicker, together with other members of his committee, was unanimously voted the thanks and appreciation of the American Legion at its National Convention in Louisville, Ky., in the fall of 1929, after all of the affairs related to the Paris Convention and the Pilgrimage to France had been finally settled and completely audited.

The Legion Pilgrimage to France, aggregating nearly 20,000 participants, was the largest peace time Trans-Atlantic migration in history and was a gigantic undertaking for which there was no precedent. In many circles, during the years of preparation for the movement, doubts were freely expressed as to the possibility of carrying out such a collassal undertaking without disaster or failure of some kind. However, all obstacles were completely overcome and the movement proved to be a distant success in every way. Due to Mr. Wicker's successful negotiations with the Trans-Atlantic steamship companies, with the American and European railroads, and with the various governments abroad, the Legionnaires enjoyed unique advantages and exceptionally low rates on their pilgrimage. At the same time, after all expenses were paid, the Legion realized a substantial net profit which has been set aside as a restricted reserve fund to be used in promoting the patriotic purposes of the Legion.

Waives Hearing On Gun, Liquor Charges

Tony Shish, 1109½ Scioto street, arrested early Friday morning in an automobile near South Mill street and Long avenue, waived a hearing before Alderman Walter T. Hamilton on a charge of carrying concealed weapons and driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor. His case will be tried by the present term of county court.
